DEDICATION

We would like to dedicate this publication to all those who have ever dared to dream, and who have worked their hardest to achieve those dreams. We dedicate this to all who tried and failed and have picked themselves up to try again. We recognize that the only failures in the game of life are those who never try; the real winners are those who venture beyond the bonding chains of conformity to stand alone for what they believe in, in a world which is sometime hostile, harsh, and critical. This is for all those who seek success and individuality, and are willing to fight fear, prejudice, and hatred in order to be the best person that they can be.

"Let us not look back on the past in regret, nor on the present with sorrow, but let us look to the future with hope."

MISS AUGUSTA

The Miss Augusta Pageant is a wonderful experience that I, the reigning Miss Augusta, promise to every future candidate. After all of the hard work in our speeches, interviews, and talents, we were finally allowed to indulge in our crowns, banners, trophies, flowers, and money!! Once that magical evening became just a memory, we began enjoying our year filled with social events and, of course, the famous parades featuring Miss Augusta and her attendants waving the Queen's Wave, receiving unique comments from bold fans such as "Hey Mom, look at the pretty lion!", or "Hey Mean Queen, where's the Bacon?" My attendants, Laurisa Sonsalla, Tonya Harriman, and Missy Herrick, and our alternates, Sarah Kling, and Ruth Zank, wouldn't trade the memories for anything! We were all winners!!!

HOW TO BE COOL LIKE A SENIOR

We, the Class of 1989, realize that when we are gone, all of you underclassmen will lose the role models that you have idolized for so long. Therefore, we wish to leave instructions on ~~etiquette for when you reach the sacred honor of becoming an~~ AHS SENIOR. So, to avoid further delay, here is a helpful list of hints for when you BABIES reach the BIG HALL!!!

Rule #1. NEVER get to Mrs. Silvermail's class on time. We realize that her door is the closest to the senior hall, therefore, it should obviously be the hardest one to get to.

Rule #2. ~~When meeting another senior in the hall, you must~~ raise your fingers and perform the proper salute when screaming "GIT!" at the top of your lungs.

Rule #3. NEVER listen to announcements during homeroom.

Mr. Stutzman absolutely loves it when he can beller like a cow at 47 sleeping, gabbing, or absent seniors.
Rule #4. Always attempt to purchase your lunch ticket just ~~prior to or during noon hour. The office ladies are~~ usually quite helpful and will tell you exactly where you can buy your lunch ticket! (It does no good to cry to Mrs. Marion either!)

Rule #5. Never actually ride the capstone bus if you are signed up for capstone. (Ask Greg B. about this one.)

Rule #6. ~~When Mr. Anderson catches you cutting in the lunch~~ line, pretend not to hear him. When he insists that you must return to the end of the line or else, tell him you haven't eaten in three days and if you have to move, you will vomit in front of the entire lunch room.

Rule #7. NEVER study in the library. We have discovered that ~~the sole purpose of going to the library is to see how~~ long you can stay there without getting kicked out. (Record for the Class of 89 is 23 minutes.)

Rule #8. NEVER get a blue slip to leave the building. We know this is highly illegal and will result in immediate suspension, but we feel since seniors almost always follow the rules ... hee, hee ... they should be ~~allowed this one little privilege.~~

Rule #9. Always remember, when the going gets rough, you're up for parole soon ... so DON'T WORRY, BE HAPPY!!!

Homecoming '88 "Hands To Heaven"

After a glorious victory over the Independence Indees, all students at A.H.S. were ready to celebrate at the annual Homecoming Dance. The theme, "Hands to Heaven," was accented in baby blue and soft yellow, and the decorations were heavenly complete with angel's hair and white lace. "Midnight Wind," a live band, was hired to provide music for the event. Couples dressed in their finest, and groups decked out in their funnest, converged on the newly transformed Community Center to dance the night away. At 10:30 last year's royalty, Mike Cleasby and Shonnie Olson, handed down their thrones to New King Keith Kelly and New Queen Chris Bethke. The dance was a success, and a special thanks goes to the Student Council for all of their efforts and money!

HOMECOMING WEEK '88

Homecoming Week '88 proved to be a spirited competition between all the classes at A.H.S., as everyone strived for the ultimate goal of winning the SPIRIT STICK! No wall was left bare, no locker was without an emblem, and no one was safe from the Annual Staff camera as the festivities began. An interesting pick of Dress-Up days allowed the school to see the softer, weirder, and just plain bizarre imaginations of some students. Hall decorations were particularly creative this year, but one never could get straight whether they had really entered an African jungle, or Christmas had come early. Either way, float building and the bonfire were eventful, the parade was a success, and a good time was had by all. For the first time in history, the Class of '89 won the Spirit Stick! And last but not least the mighty Beavs once again triumphed by crushing the Independence Indies at the Big Game on Friday night!

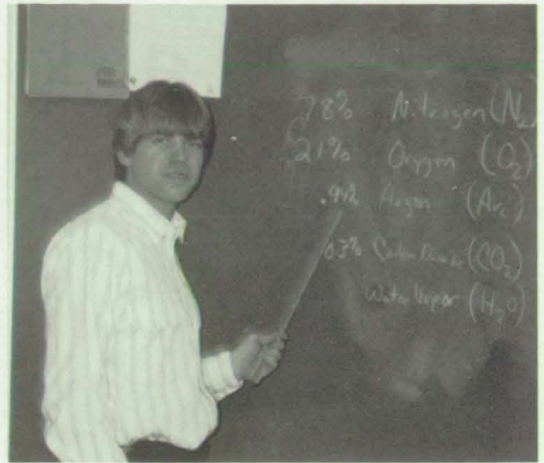

Remember them?!?

Hey, Mr. Crowe, are they always this backwards?!?

"Honestly" (Prom 1988)

On May 7th, 1988, the much awaited Junior Prom was held by the Class of 1989 at the Augusta Community Center. The juniors worked intensely to set up for the event, using the theme of "City Nights" to erect skyscrapers and street lamps on an otherwise dull gym floor. The building was transformed with a dark skyline and romantic silhouettes of couples gracing the dance floor. At 10:30, King Scott Rugotzke and Queen Paulette Ives led the Grand march to the theme song of "Honestly." "Notorious" provided hot music, helping to pull off yet another Augusta High School Prom.

Leadership, Hon-

The Leadership

This year's Student Council had a very productive year. From the first day of school up until the very end of Homecoming week, they worked hard to create a very successful Homecoming Dance. (minus one band!!!) In the spirit of Christmas, they sponsored an afternoon filled with laughs. A double feature included The Three Stooges in Outer Space Jltters and Adventures In Babysitting. For the second year in a row, Cupid struck at the Winter Snowball held in conjunction with Valentine's Day. Again, another successful informal dance as a result of our hard workers. The members of our ambitious team include: Row One: Wendy Honadel, Paulette Ives, V. Pres. Katherine Rybak, Missy Herrick and Darcy Bauch. Row Two: Pres. Kim Lange, Orrin Olson, Brian Vandahey, Sec. Debbie Randall, Ray Luedke, Bobby Overby, Joe Brunzlick, Don Honadel, and Treas. Matt Gavin.

President Kim Lange and Vice-President Katherine Rybak

Quadratic equations, Renoir's early works, convex lenses, and the death poems of Emily Dickinson. What could any of these possibly have in common? Not much, except they were just some of the topics the Academic Decathlon team was quizzed on this year. Despite the tongue-twisting terminology (can you say anaphora, allegory, oxymoron, and vernacular raconteur five times fast?) an endless flow of algebra formulas, and scientific theories only Einstein could have thought of, the team managed to compete at the Cesa #10 competition in November, and do quite well on tests in all categories. As for the advisor, Mr. Randy Stutzman, well, a couple of Tylenol and he was as good as new in a few hours. (And he only read through the tests!)

ORS and Acting

The Actors

A bold new experiment was tried at AHS in the drama department this fall, in the form of a 1-Act Play. Early in the school year, Ms. Sue Padjen held auditions to cast the roles of an intricate drama, and intense rehearsals began. The result: a top-notch production of a true-life play called "Juvie." Those students involved were cast as anything from drug dealers and addicts, to arsonists and runaways. But the seriousness of the script did not keep the cast and crew from having a thoroughly good time, even at the 7 a.m. rehearsals. (when most people were half-awake, and the rest were half-asleep!) Either way, when it came down to competition, the cast of "Juvie" provided a top-rate performance, earning their way to the State Competition in Stevens Point. Those involved in 1-Act Play hope that it becomes a permanent addition to AHS extracurricular activities!

This year's Mock Trial Team, coached by Tom Crowe and Randy Stutzman, had a very exciting and successful year. After practicing many times a week to the point of exhaustion, they began their courtroom experience in two practice trials against Chi-Hi in the Chippewa County Court House. Finally, after months of preparation, February 18 arrived with Regional Competition and they received their chance to show off their superior legal abilities in the Eau Claire County Court House. In four trials against various other teams, our Augusta team came out strong.

HONORS

The National Honor Society, while not a bold organization is still quite a strong tradition at AHS. Under the advisorship of Mr. David Jacobson, the NHS members beheld yet another year at this establishment. The group took their annual field trip to the Twin Cities, and a good time was had by all! (Mr. Jacobson was not available for comment at this time.) Oh, and to all you Sophomores who are still confused as to why you are even in NHS, forget it. The upper-classmen don't even know how they got in. It's just another school secret, just like who really painted the gym yellow . . .

J. Walker, D. Shong, L. Sonsalla, T. Bonick, T. Harriman, J. Ringhand, K. Rybak, Mr. Jacobson, C. Yena, R. Luedke, J. Lane, K. Lange, S. Kling, L. Thone, L. Peterson, S. Bauch, J. Ries, A. Huth, T. Raycher, C. Ries, B. Papenfuss, D. Randall, P. Ives, M. Gavin.

DRAMATICALLY DAZZLING!

D. Klatt, H. Kamrowski, A. Dickinsen, M. Smith, L. Sonsalla, T. Bauch, J. Brunzlick, M. Bauch, K. Rybak, L. Thone, J. Kling, C. Yena, K. Lange, R. Walsh, R. Zank, C. West, S. Kling.

It was a quiet year for the Drama Club at AHS, but none the less, it was a learning one. The Drama Club doubled as the 1-Act Play, and that project was an excellent undertaking for dramatic experience. Unfortunately, they were not able to put on the traditional spring play, but hopefully next year, the tradition will be resumed!

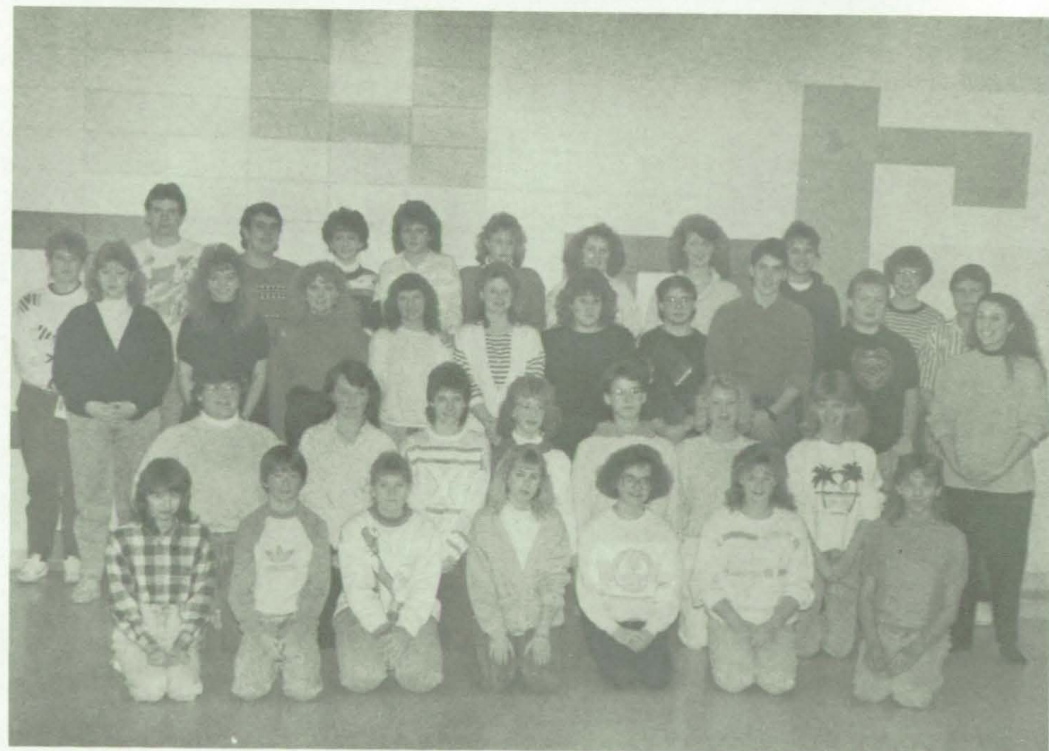

R. Zank, L. Sonsalla, L. Thone, C. West, K. Lange, S. Kling

SUCCESSFUL SPEAKERS SHINE

Yea, Forensics! This year's team had one of the most successful and exciting seasons in the history of AHS. Under the coaching of Ms. Padjen, the speakers covered most categories, and the results were fantastic! Augusta became a dominating force on the circuit, and just a mentioning of the name struck fear in the hearts of other schools! The team was once again wonderful at State in Madison, and rumors were flying that they were also joining the NFL — the National Forensics League.

D. Shong, T. Harriman, L. Sonsalla, S. Kling, L. Thone, K. Bertram, K. Rybak, S. Stevens, T. Ries, R. Zank.

AND FROM THE CORNERS OF THE BUS. ED. ROOM . . .

"They may have been small, but they were quite sufficient." In mentioning this year's annual staff, that statement seems almost perfect. Faced with nasty deadlines, hostile cameras, and dangerous new weapons such as "croppers" and "flexirulers" (Mr. Tweed was the only one to master the technique of proper use!) our fearless and ferocious staff attempted to make the best of a tight situation. But all was not lost, as everyone involved learned to load cameras, type wildly, and unscrew the caps on white-out bottles. And our Taylor advisor, Mr. Tim Leadholm, proved to be a beacon on Monday nights, with something new and cheerful to say each week. All in all, despite the threats of suicide and empty bottles of Tylenol, the yearbook staff enjoyed their adventure in publishing. To quote one loyal staff member, "We worked HARD!"

The Augusta chapter of the Future Homemakers of America continued their tradition of personal growth and community service activities in 1988-89. Members sponsored the 88-89 community birthday and community activity calendar, Thanksgiving dinner for nursing home residents, the food machine in the high school, Military Mail Call for servicemen at Christmas, and the annual "Project Santa" for deserving families in the area. A special recreational highlight was the trip to the Met center for the Ice Capades, featuring Olympic skaters, Peter and Kitty Carruthers.

Recognition events and National FHA Week activities, as well as the awards breakfast for seniors and their families, district rally and state conference in Milwaukee gave members opportunities for decision-making, cooperative action, and self-development.

The FFA is a national organization of students enrolled in vocational agriculture/agribusiness in 50 states and Puerto Rico. Organized in November, 1928, the FFA is an integral part of the curriculum of vocational agriculture/agribusiness departments in the public schools. All students in these programs are to receive instruction in personal leadership growth and development which can best be achieved through the FFA.

Through active participation in the FFA, members learn by taking part in and conducting meetings, speaking in public, participating in contests based on occupational skills, earning awards and recognition and becoming involved in cooperative efforts and community improvement. The FFA offers the opportunity for achieving a personal goal of becoming productive citizens in our democracy.

Like a knight in shining armor she came, rescuing the band program from the dingy depths of a Mrs. Goplin-maternity-leave. Yes, Ms. Janece Griffiths became the successful successor and Commander-In-Chief of the tooters and hooters of AHS! Ms. Griffiths, a new graduate of UW-Oshkosh and native of Rosedale, Wisconsin, came to work at our high school and face the horrors of sticky tubas, squeaky clarinets, and wild Freshmen! Despite the seemingly impossible odds, Ms. Griffiths managed to conduct the bands with enthusiasm and excitement, while helping to make the students truly excellent musicians. It is almost certain that Ms. Griffiths left a lasting impression on the Band Department even though she could only be here at AHS a semester!

The Augusta High School Choral Program celebrated yet another fantastic year, with several successful traditional concerts, as well as excellent performances at the District and State Competitions, and the annual spaghetti dinner. Led by third-year choir director, Mr. Keith Anderson, students sang their hearts out while learning the fundamentals of music (and the fun stuff too!) Besides training their vocal chords, the AHS choir held successful fundraisers, including record hops, pizza sales, and the After-School-Sucker-Sale Bonanza! The choral program at Augusta High School will keep building strength with many more great years like this one in store!

While the rest of Augusta High School was making off for the tennis courts, the golf course, or the sands of Coon Fork Lake, a certain group of girls devotedly reported to the dusty sand pits of the Lion's Field to undertake their daily regiment of softball practice. Led by Coach Roger Pierce and a strong group of returning letter-winners, AHS Softball thrived once again. Through hard work and natural talent the Beavers were able to beat some nearly unbeatable teams, losing only three games the entire season. Though they had hopes of going to state, the team made it to Regional finals before being shut out by Fall Creek in a very close game. If the 1989 season is half as successful, AHS will be proud.

HOPING FOR A HOLE IN ONE . . .

OUR FEARLESS GOLFERS!!!

. . . and they golfed hard!!! For the second year in a row, Mr. Rod Anderson coached the golfing "studs" on the basic fundamentals of "how to properly swing a golf club." The ambitious swingers consisted of Matt Gavin, Don Honadel, Kevin Lemere, Bobby Overby, Karl Lemere, and the "Senior Star," John Anderson. With their shades, their bermuda shorts, and their new tans, they continued to "putt" with amazing grace and their own unique style . . . "duck Kevin!!!"

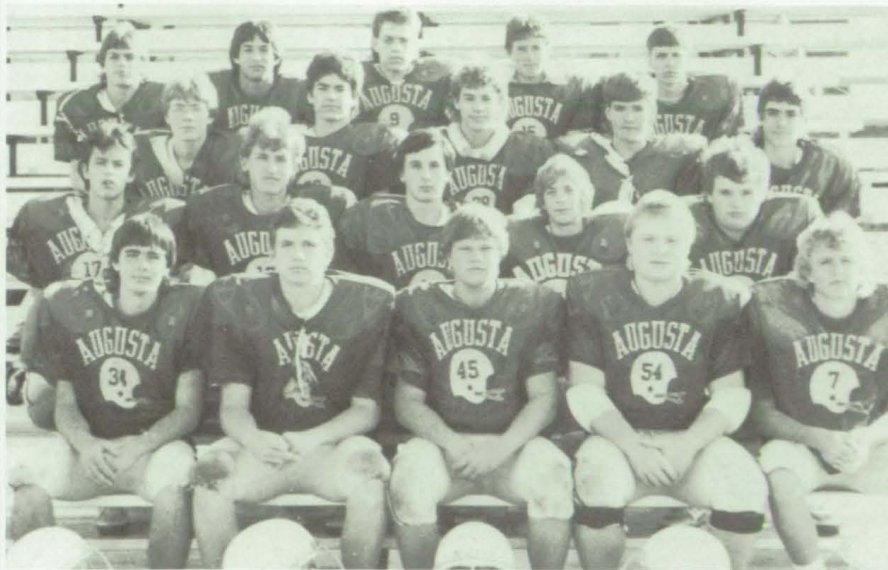

It seems like you just can't get enough of a good thing! Just when the rest of the Dairyland Conference thought it was safe to go back on the football field again, the ALL-Mighty Augusta Beavers suited yet another ferocious fighting squad. Though the team was led mostly by Juniors, they rolled easily over almost everyone they played, leaving their opponents wishing that they had just stayed home and watched T.V. After a fantastic season, which included a little honor called Conference Co-Champs, the Beavs went on to post-season tournament action. Though their dreams of state were cut short by Hilbert. But hey, there's always next year!

ONE AT A TIME

Uno, dos, tres . . . spike it in their face. 1-2-3, Go . . . well you get the idea anyway. Mr. Forseth's "Divin' Animals" celebrated another successful season in the Dairyland Conference, placing third overall. Led by six returning seniors and letter winners, Augusta Volleyball practiced hard, played hard, and learned some hard lessons throughout the course of an electrifying season. All in all AHS volleyball thrived and Mr. Forseth and Mrs. Gilmore gained only (a few) more grey hairs.

HTY MOVERS

Let's face it — Augusta High School is developing quite a tradition in boys basketball. The Mighty Beavs hit the court this year as tough as ever, led by a young but talented squad. Under the guidance of Mr. Mickey Vandehey and asst. coach John Honadel, the beavers proudly strutted their stuff against some of the best teams in the area. Next year promises to be even more exciting for AHS fans, as most of the starters are juniors or sophomores and will be back again — so look out Dairyland Conference!

Again, the Augusta High School Girl's Basketball team made it through the season with only a few scratches and bruises (mostly from the opposing teams). Again, they were coached by the all-loved and immortal Richard Anderson, who is known all over the Dairyland Conference affectionately as "Duke." Leaving things as they were before, they stuck with the motto "Things Occur."

The Cheerleading Squad '88, led by veteran Seniors Chris Shaffer and Missy Herrick, were completely responsible for cheering on the fans at all of the mighty Beavs' football games. These cheerleaders managed not only to rouse the fans, but also hold great pep assemblies, and even double as a pom-pon squad!

JR. HIGH AT A.H.S.

TOO GOOD
TO BE FORGOTTEN

Starting From Scratch

The class of '94 entered the high school in August looking lost and confused. As the year has progressed though, they grew more comfortable to the new surroundings. Next year, when they become the leaders of the junior high, they hopefully won't act like the real leaders of the school!

Row 1: R. Risberg, C. Breid, R. Bruder, C. Bauch, J. Jensen, M. Ball, S. Dickensen, H. Johnson, J. Zimmerman, A. Luedtke, P. Hahn, T. Strauch. Row 2: J. Kildahl, P. LeClerc, G. Dull, R. Overby, J. Row 4: C. Boettcher, K. Pettis, D. Smith, M. Solie, J. Hilmanowski, A. Hanson, W. Walker, D. Ruff, C. Kirkham, J. Rouleau, B. King.

Movin' Right Along

It's a well known fact that the seniors get surveys every year, but no one has ever asked the opinion of the leaders of the Jr. High — the 8th graders. So we decided this year to ask the Kings and Queens of Jr. AHS as few questions. Here are the results.

1. Favorite senior: Scott Rugotzke
2. Favorite teacher: Miss Padjen
3. Favorite song: (3-way tie) Kokomo
Sweet Child O' Mine
Every Rose Has Its Thorn
4. Favorite Pop: Dr. Pepper
5. Favorite Weekend Activity (clean): Shop
Sleep
Watch TV
6. Want to go out with: (Boys) Jessi Crowe
(Girls) Orrin Olson
7. Choice for next President: Alf
8. Favorite hair color: Blonde and Brunette
9. Favorite lipstick color: Pink
10. Favorite fast food: French Fries

On the Line

The Junior High Football teams both had successful seasons this year. The seventh grade squad ended their season with a 2-3 record, while the eighth grade squad finished off at 3-2. Both teams improved through the season, and the eighth grade squad should be a good addition to the senior high team.

Jr. High Volleyball

Bump, Set, Spike

Led by Sharon Horel, the Junior High Volleyball teams finished off the season very successfully. Next year, the players from the class of 93 will be a welcome addition to the senior high volleyball squad. Both teams showed great promise for the future volleyball teams at AHS.

Row 1: A. Raycher, B. Kunz, C. Zich, S. Dickenson. Row 2: C. Breid, S. Troxel, A. Hanson, W. Walker, M. Wiese.

Learning and Improving Jr. High Girls Basketball

The junior high girls basketball team led by Dale Zank had another successful season. Both teams showed lots of potential for the future AHS basketball teams. Next year, the eighth graders head into junior varsity action, and the seventh graders will continue to perfect their playing abilities before heading into the senior high themselves.

Row 1: A. Luedtke, J. Conner. Row 2: C. Breid, B. Kunz, S. Dickenson. Row 3: D. Zank, H. Johnson, W. Walker, A. Hanson, J. Zimmerman.

Boys Basketball

The Junior High Boys Basketball teams were very competitive throughout the season this year. Led by their fearless coaches Dale Zank and Randy Stutzman, the squads showed their skill and talent. Next year, both squads hope to improve even further, when the eighth graders will join the senior high and the seventh graders become the leaders of the junior high.

Row 1: M. Ball, N. Zorn. Row 2: B. Vandehey, J. Hilmanowski, T. Strauch, P. LeClere. Row 3: M. Solie, C. Boettcher, K. Pettis, C. Lewellan.

The Junior High Band and Choir had a year full of new and fun experiences. The eighth grade now looks forward to contributing their talents to the Senior High groups. Friendly Freshmen

The class of '92 successfully completed their first year as true members of Augusta High. As freshmen, they received their first hands-on experience with the hectic life during homecoming week. In the spirit of competition, there were dress-up days, yelling and hall decoration contests, yet nothing is as overwhelming as the float building competition. Regardless of their amateur skills, the Freshmen created the most uniquely grotesque float ever: Nightmare on Indee Street. With mannequins and a lot of red paint (or was it ketchup?!), they created a premonition of the Beaver massacre of the Indees that was to occur at the big Homecoming game. As the Freshmen overcame their "Formal-Dance Jitters," they became more a part of the "Big, Mature High-Schoolers!!"

Aren't they cute?!?

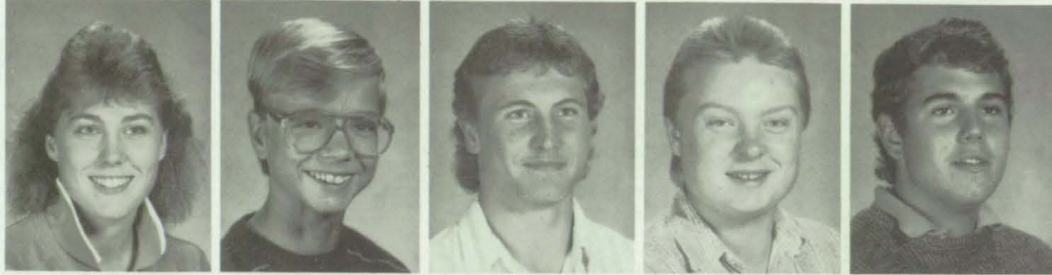

Sizzlin' Sophomores

'Twas the year before their Junior and all through the school
 Not a student was studying not even the class fool!
 All their books were stuffed in their lockers with no care
 In the hope that their teachers would not look there!
 Oh Reno Walsh forgot
 his desk was not a bed
 While visions of skateboards danced hurriedly in his head!
 And Bobby in his leg brace and Nathan in his Miller cap Tried to comfort Kevin while dreaming of growing up like Karl during his nap!
 He soon awoke to realize next year they must deal with prom
 As one would rather face the Nuclear Bomb!

Jumpin' Juniors

The rippin' class of 1990
 Has made it to their Junior year
 With brand new licenses, they hit the road
 Putting the entire town in fear
 And they plan excitedly for the upcoming Prom
 Turning it into an amazing night
 But let's hope they put the Grand March later
 'Cuz last year we didn't have time to eat

The Juniors aren't really Cockey
 Nor are Brian and Joel really
 STUDS
 They may walk and talk and act
 real cool
 But we all know they're as sweet as rosebuds
 The Class of '90 is pretty wild
 Why they are . . . We haven't a clue
 Maybe they'll follow in the Seniors' footsteps

. . . But I doubt it! . . .

The Class of '89, out of the kindness of their hearts, has prepared their last will and testament. The generous and gracious Seniors willed and bequeathed items and characteristics of themselves that they no longer will need as they leave the depths of Augusta High.

I, Stacey Bauch, will and bequeath my Spanish book to Shonnie Olson.
(Yo, S. Bauch, legs mi libro de espanol a S. Olson!)

I, Allyn Bertrang, will and bequeath my coolness to Herbie Erdman.

I, Rebecca Hadorn, will and bequeath my potty mouth to the junior girls of the basketball team.

I, Tonya Harriman, will and bequeath my gracefulness required to drink pop on the bus to Jacelle Nelson.

I, Paulette Ives, will and bequeath my extra weight to my cousin Renetta Volbrecht.

I, Sarah Kling, will and bequeath my green Chevette to anyone who complains about taking the bus.

I, Kim Lange, will and bequeath my sticking French Horn valve to Mark Bauch and Mike Smith. I also will and bequeath my strong abilities to aggravate Mr. Jacobson to any new senior willing to visit Mr. Lacke quite often.

I, Debbie Randall, will and bequeath my mischievousness to Stewart Potter.

I, Eric Ries, will and bequeath my success and talent to my sister, Carrie.

I, Julie Ringhand, will and bequeath my ability to swear with my hands to Mark Bauch.

I, Katherine Rybak, will and bequeath my expert and hereditary driving capabilities to Brian Vandehey, from one Drivers Ed. kid to another.

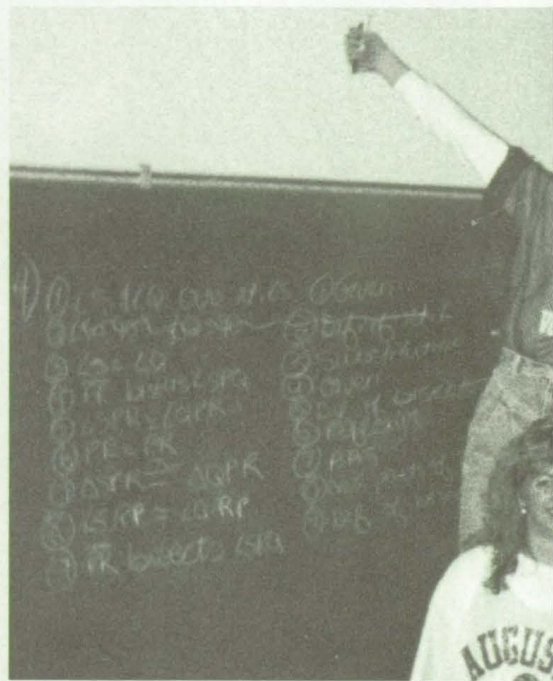

I, Dan Solie, will and bequeath my nickname, Noodle, to Troy Volbrect and my absences to anyone who wants them.

I, Laurisa Sonsalla, will and bequeath my broken hand to anyone who makes fun of it.

I, Shanna Stevens, will and bequeath my "who cares" attitude to Lisa Kelly.

I, Lisa Thone, will and bequeath my ability to get through school doing as little as possible to Rob Arries.

COLLECT YOUR REWARD!

The Class of 1989 predicted that, in twenty years . . .

Greg Boettcher will have finished ten years of rehabilitation and be attending AA five times a week.

Luis Mercardo will be a comedian in Chicago with his own late night T.V. show.

The Class of 89 will all be suffering from severe arthritis of the knuckles from snapping "GITI."

Luis Mercardo will still be in Mr. Duke's U.S. History class.

Kim Lange will have her own talk show with David Letterman as her own guest.

Sarah Kling will be a wealthy lawyer with numerous homes in New York, California, France, and Switzerland.

Tony Raycher will corner the market on Grecian Formula.

Kevin Steinke will be the owner of a motorcycle shop and be a middle-class businessman.

Angee Price will be a very rich psychiatrist counseling crazy French men. Scott will have short hair.

Dayna will team up with RATT as a back-up singer.

Ruth will be a captain in the Army.

Scott will be on skid row pickin' his teeth with a guitar pick, and harmonizing with Axl Rose & Slash.

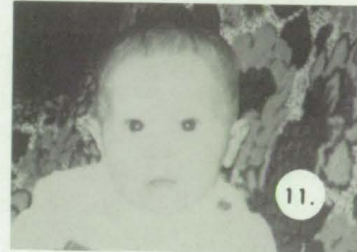

Mary Erdman will have her own talk show on how to lose weight.

Tony Raycher will take over the "Oh, Vanna" position.

Dan Metz will be living in Arkansas, running his million dollar Coon Hound Ranch with Stud.

Stacey Bauch will have married King Tut, have lived in the Casa Blanca of Gone With the Wind, have given birth to a son with the equivalent of Wayne Gretzky, and will have died shortly after while listening to U2's music on a Sunday, Bloody Sunday.

They weren't always Seniors!!!

1. Beth 2. Julie 3. Stacey 4. Katherine 5. Lisa 6. Kim 7. Missy 8. Angee 9. Shanna 10. Tracey 11. Paulette 12. Tonya 13. Laurisa 14. Sarah

... and they soon learned to talk!!!

Go ahead, make my day!
I am freezing!
Life is a joke, so, laugh as much as possible!
Hhmm!!!
It's McNasty!
Scoop!!!
I'll be liking it!! It doesn't get any better than this!
My hair color has nothing to do with my dizziness!
Just because he's small, it doesn't mean he's not sufficient!!!

GET OFF MY WINGS

So here I stand
looking over the ledge,
diploma in hand,
livin' on the edge.
Wings unfurled,
I make a choice
to change the world,
to sound my voice.
I'll end the wars
and relieve the strain.
I'll feed the poor,
and ease the pain.
But some may try to clip my wings
and maybe they will doubt, because they will know nothing of what it's about.
It's not for praise
or money or fame,
again I will raise
my wings the same.
I just want to try
to change some things,
I want to fly,
so get off my wings.

— Katherine Rybak
