Never Before, Never Again

Many people didn't seem to realize how much hard work was put into making what you are now holding in your hands, the 2006 yearbook. Sixteen staff members dedicated much of their time creating this book for your enjoyment, which meant staying after class, working after school, and during their study hall periods.

As Editor-In-Chief, it was my greatest hope to be able to capture all the highlights of this year at Augusta High, and I believed we would be able to do that. We kept old traditions, and tried to start some new ones. That is what our theme, Never Before, Never Again, was all about.

Check out the quotes at the bottom of the pages, and also the colors we have on each page.

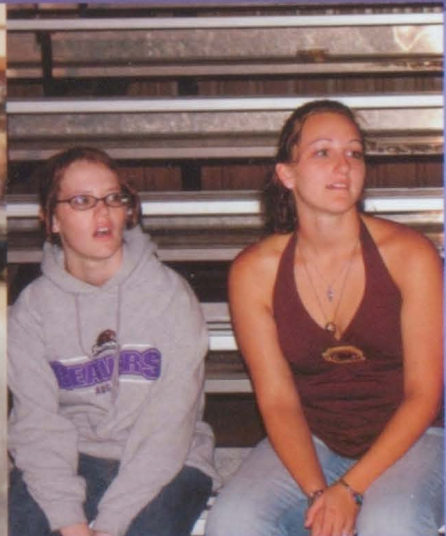

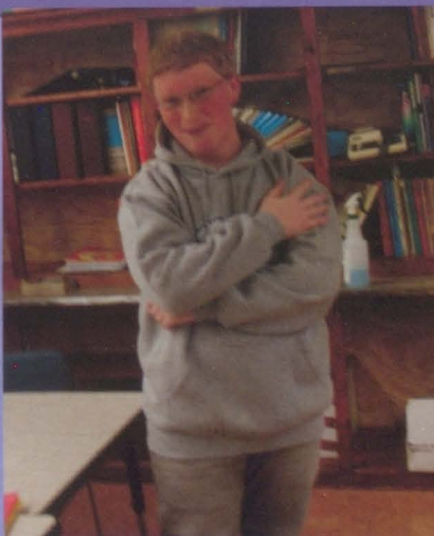

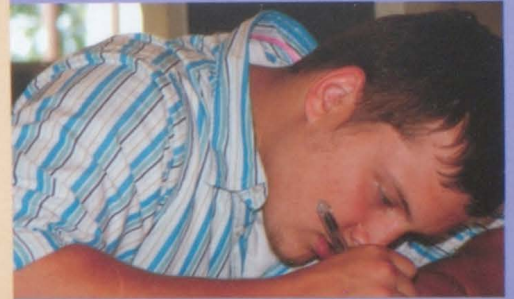

I hope you enjoy our hard work. We all had a lot of fun running the school's publishing business that produced it.

FELIPE BARBOSA

His "out-there" personality and great voice is what makes Felipe a star. Anywhere he goes, you will find a good time.

NATHALIA CANABRAVA

Nathalia is the calmer one out of the four Brazilians. She is always smiling and very polite. Everyone loves this girl!

Alana, Nathalia, and Felipe- AKA "The Brazilians". These three individuals came to our country hoping to make new friends and new experiences. They will all be missed so dearly.

From a * land far, far away *

MIN-JU KIM

Min-Ju is one of the nicest girls you will ever meet. She is a happy-go-lucky person and can put a smile on anyone's face.

ALANA GODOY

The one and only- She came and amazed us all with her shining personality and love for a great time. We know she will be back.

The start of this school year brought about the arrival of six wonderful students from across the world. Felipe Barbosa, Nathalia Canabrava, Arthur Garbe, and Alana Godoy came to the United States from Brazil. Min Ju Kim and So-Yean Yim hail from South Korea.

Each of these students brought with them a unique set of qualities to our school and community. When walking down the hallways during the course of the day, whenever you crossed paths with any of these five individuals, you always received a smile, a nod of greeting, a 'hello', and we were able to learn a lot about other cultures because of it.

Coming to Augusta and attending Augusta High School was just as much of a change for them, as it was for native students. Just imagine what it would be like to attend a school in another country, trying to learn their ways and finding a group of friends to sit with at lunch. None of these people had trouble fitting in. They were friends to everyone and no one wanted to see them go.

Arthur Garbe, who came to Augusta High at the beginning of second semester, 2006

SO-YEAN YIM

So-Yean Yim is a down to earth, intelligent girl. She can start a conversation with anyone she meets.

Making friends all around the world. Min-Ju and Nathalia have found friends in each other that will last forever.

Min-Ju and Nathalia

The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams.

The only limit to our realization of tomorrow will be our doubts of today. Let us move forward.

FAVS AND MEM'S

Remember in Mr. Crowe's room in 8th grade when Matt pushed Jamie into the white board and the map fell off and Jamie starting hitting Matt with the map?

Remember going to Beaver Creek in 6th grade when the boys ran around our cabin and scared the girls, then we sat up all night with Ms. Dekan?

Remember our eighth grade year when Scott had a get together at his house and all of us went in his shower?

"Welcome to my trash!"

Remember Junior year when Mr. Stutzman and Sean got in a huge argument over politics?

Remember in fifth grade when Jamie had to wear Mrs. Kangas' pants home because she peed her pants while sitting on the futon?

"There is just one life for each of us: our own." ~Euripides

Rebecca,
It was eighteen years ago that you came into this world. You brought us so much joy. We are very proud of you. We also know that you can do anything that you set your mind to. Good luck in the future. We will always be there for you.

Love,
Mom & Dad

To My Princess,

I feel like I just took this picture yesterday! And now you're done with high school. I wouldn't change a day, and I still can pick on you about what I think your ideal life should be. HA HA! Whatever path you choose remember you will never have to regret it. And I will always be there to give you advice whether you want it or not. Life is too short to not do everything you believe you can do and remember... I love you forever, I like you for always, for now and forever my baby you'll be.

I love you Jamie,
Mom

To My Sephie,

I can't believe my baby is grown. You're so beautiful, inside and out. Never lose your faith in Jesus and the commitment that you have to Him. You've been a joy to raise; we love you sooo much and are very proud of you. Grandma and Grandpa would be too. God has blessed you with so many talents, use them for Him and always keep Him first. I'll miss you terribly next year but I look forward to watching you to continue to grow and mature into the marvelous young woman God has created you to be.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Becky,
Congratulations on your big day. Thanks for always being there and for helping us with whatever we needed.

Love,
Amanda and Andrew

Conrad,

Congratulations on finishing a milestone in your life. The next chapter to come, work hard, believe in yourself and God. With your determination, you will make it.

Love,
Chloe, Cullen,
Mom & Dad

Chelser Bug,

Being friends with you since I was four months old, making a dance on the trampoline to the Simba song, tying your sister to the chair... then taking your sister to the ER, inventing the "Spell-casting Cowa-bunga Chicks" Club, playing Miss America. Chelsea, I could go on and on with all of the memories I have with you. Thanks for the best childhood ever and giving me someone to argue with! We'll be friends for life. Thanks for all the GREAT memories.

Love you like a sister,
Mandie

Julia,

What can I say? You are tastier than a Rebel Boorzle Sandich.

Love you always,
Shaun

Becky,

Here you are ready to graduate. My how time has passed. Best of everything to a very special granddaughter.

Love you very much,
Orange Gram

My Raspberry Parfait,

I want to thank you for being the best friend that you have been throughout the years. Just like your mom says, "you have a friend in me!" And yes, I will star my own ice cream shop just for you, so I will be able to make you malts any time of the day, not just one in the morning! You're a beautiful, intelligent, amazing girl and you deserve nothing but the best in life. Thanks for all the fun memories the last 7 years. It's been a blast!

With all the love a best friend can give,
Your Peanut Truffle

Jake,
Always stay happy and make yourself and us proud as you go forth in life! There's so much you can do if you put your mind to it.

Love,
Mom and Mike

Jamie,

We are so very proud of you. With your character and sense of humor, you have a bright future.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Kayla,

Congratulations! I'm very proud of you and wish the best of luck at Platteville. You are one of the people who will go places in life.

Love,
Dad

Trevor,

You've become a fine young man. You're responsible, funny, charismatic, helpful and a great brother. I hope you become a very successful clothes line climber. I'll always be here for you. Congratulations!

Love,
Amber

Look out world!
Here come the boys of Wilson!

Good Luck to
Trevor and Ted!

Jessica Lee,
Congratulations darlin'! I can't believe you are going to graduate this year! Time has flown by and although we've had a few arguments nothing can break the bond between two sisters. Remember that! I will always be here for you whatever it may be and you are a wonderful person with a big smile! I love you Jes. Good luck with your next pathway along the road. May it be GOLD!

Love you always,
Savannah

Kristin,

It seems like only yesterday, I put you on the kindergarten bus, only to realize after the bus left that I had forgotten to put your I.D. bracelet on. I sat down and cried, feeling like I had already failed you and you had only just begun. It didn't take me long to realize, I had to be doing a great job, just look at you. You are such a blessing, I can't help but feel such pride when I look at you, words can't describe how proud of you I am. Always be yourself, you are so honest, unique, caring, sweet and hardworking. Remember to always "DREAM BIG". You can do anything you set your mind to and you prove this to me everyday. Good luck in all you do, I know you will do great things. You have so much to offer this world. You're not only my daughter but also a best friend. Thanks for always being there for me. Don't ever lose your determination, you're an inspiration to be around. Always believe in yourself. Remember when things get tough, as they sometimes will, pick yourself up, dust off and keep going. Don't ever give up and always keep a smile on your face. I'm always here for you!

I LOVE YOU,
Mom

Hey Michael,

Keep up that winning form and the great follow through.

Love ya,
Mom &
Dad

Aunt Goose,

Thanks for being our aunt. We think you should babysit us more and take us both to McDonalds at the same time.

We love you,
Alexis and Michael

Gregory,

It has been a pleasure watching you grow, into the responsible, mature and caring young adult you have become. It seems that only yesterday you were trying to keep up with your big brother, your "sis" and their friends. We are very proud of the road you have taken and choices you have made. Good luck with the next part of your journey.

Remember that you can accomplish whatever you set your sights on. The sky is the limit!

Love,
Mom & Dad

Jeremy,

Congratulations! Words can't explain how proud of you I am. I have had so much fun getting to know you. I always have a blast with you, whether we're mini golfing, going to a movie, or even spending time with our families. There's never a dull moment! I know we've been through many ups and downs along the way, but we always make it through. I'm always here for you and always will be. I wish you good luck in wherever your life takes you and I'll be there every step of the way! Love ya hun!

XOXO,
Renae

but also dream.

Mandie.

The time has just flown and I've had so much fun with you, but it's not over yet, just because you won't be here next year. We both know what. You are so beautiful inside and out. Believe me, whatever you decide to do, you'll be great at it. You can light up a room with that contagious smile. You are an amazing person. I love you.

Love,
Chris

Kristin.

We are so proud of you!

Watching you grow up has been so rewarding and fun! You are pure joy. Thanks for being such a good role model for your brother and sister. Good luck in all you do and remember we are always here for you! Keep Smiling!

We love you,
Mom and Dad

Jeremy.

You are my first born, and you grew up way too fast. I am so very proud of you, and all you've accomplished. Thank you for always being my rock, and a good role model and reliable big brother to Jordan. You've always had my trust to do the right thing, and I look forward to always being mother and son. Best of luck in your future, and never lose who you are now.

Love,

As I watch you grow up and become your own person, I look at you—your happiness, simplicity, and beauty. I am so proud of you, my beautiful daughter no longer a baby, but a young lady with a full range of emotions, feelings, ideas, and goals. Every day is exciting as I watch you grow. I want you to know that I'll always be there for you in good and bad times. You can depend on my support, guidance, and friendship. I love having you for a daughter and I love being your mother. Good luck pumpkin.

Love Always,
Mom

Amanda.

I know we kid you about being our princess but we waited for a long time for you after all the boys. Your strength of body and soul has protected you since you were born. It will also take you far in life. We love you.

Love,

Chelsea,

Your high school graduation is here and off to college you go. You have grown into a beautiful, outgoing, intelligent, and caring woman. Time is moving too fast. It seems like just yesterday you were born and your sister held you in her arms, as your dad and I looked on. You, too, have taught us much these past 18 years. We know that you will exceed your goals in life and achieve all of your dreams. Life is a great big canvas and you should throw all the paint on it you can. Be glad of life because it gives you the chance to love, to work, to play, and to look up to the stars. And in the end, it's not the years in your life that count. It's the life in your years. Know that you have and will always be loved very much. We are very proud of you!

Love,
Mom and Dad

To our youngest daughter,

Your smile is like a ray of sunshine. You light up all of our lives. Maranda Ray you are so beautiful inside and out. You still can't drive! Ha! Ha!

Love,
Mom and Dad

P.S.- Matt, Missy, and Mindy

Trevor,

You have become a fine young man. You are responsible, funny, charismatic, helpful, and a great brother. I hope you become a very successful clothes line climber. I will always be here for you. congratulations!

Love,
Amber

Hey Michael,

Keep up that winning form and the great follow through.

Love ya,
Mom and Dad

You all have left me with so many great memories that I will never forget. Never stop reaching toward your goals and good luck in wherever life takes you.

Always,
Chelsea Anderson

Jeremy,

Congratulations! Words can't explain how proud of you I am. I have had so much fun getting to know you. I always have a blast with you, whether we are mini golfing, going to a movie, or even spending time with our families. There's never a dull moment! I know we've been through many ups and downs along the way, but we always make it through. I'm always here for you and always will be. I wish you good luck in wherever your life takes you and I'll be there every step of the way! Love ya hun!

XOXO,
Renae

but also believe."

To my bestest friends,

Thanks for being the best friends a girl could ask for. High school wouldn't have been the same without you. We've had our ups and downs but the memories will always be priceless. Thank you for always being there for me. I wish you all the best of luck in the future. I know you can conquer anything you put your minds to. We will always be friends at heart.

Love
Always,
Kristin

Remember when...

You'd give us "the look" and you'd howl at the moon? We think it's "TADA", that you'll be graduating soon!

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Mallory

Goose,

As for you, eighteen years has passed me and as those years passed, we both have gone through A LOT. You have always been there for me if I needed advice, even though sometimes it just got me into trouble, but other times I was glad you were there for me. We both have grown up so fast, even though we are growing up I know you will always be there for me, even if you have to drive a long way to be where I am. I want to say thanks for everything you have done for me and wish you the best of luck in the future.

Love ya,
Krissy

Becca Lynn,

You have matured into a fine young lady. We are proud to be able to say you are our niece. Keep in mind this is not the end but a new beginning. Always follow your gut instinct and you will be okay.

Love,
Auntie and Skip

Brady,

You're a fine young man with courage, strength, and most of all heart. We're proud of you!

Love,
Mom and Dad

Krista,

You were such a cute baby. What happened? Your furry friends must have been flaring up that day. At least your looks don't affect your knowledge. You are a bright, intelligent, and unique individual. Continue to use your knowledge and it will get you far. Always remember that I will be here for you no matter what.

Love your brother,
Kelsey

Firebangs,

I'm so proud of you little sis. You've matured to a bright and loving person and grown into such a gorgeous young lady. I love you so much. Congratulations on ending a chapter in your life. Good luck on the next and remember, the rest of your life is blank pages, fill them however your heart leads you.

Love always,
Bush Head

Kristin,

Thank you for being the best big sister I could have. You have always been there for me. I always knew you would succeed. I love you so much and I'll miss you.

Love,
Caitlin

T-N-T,

"I'm Bo Duke!" "That's what I thought, Mitch." "Put some pants on that kid." "Play with fire you wind up burnt." Thanks for all the good times and great memories.

Good luck,
Amber and April

Rebecca,

It was eighteen years ago that you came into this world. You brought us so much joy. We are very proud of you. We also know that you can do anything that you set your mind to. Good luck in the future. We will always be there for you.

Love,
Mom and Dad

To our wonderful son,

We can always count on you to do your best. Whether it is hunting or helping out on the farm. You are also there when your sisters or brother need you. You are our right hand man and we predict you will go far in your life. You are a special son.

Love,
Mom

Krista,

Little sis, I can't believe you are going to graduate already. It seems like yesterday you were just a baby and I was yelling at you to stop crying. You have made so many good decisions and accomplished so many things, but you still have a long journey ahead of you. Trust me it goes fast, so live everyday to it's fullest and continue to explore new things. Always remember, no matter what God will be with you and help you through any obstacles, big or small. Continue to use your good judgement and continue to dream because there is no dream that is too big.

Love you sis,

To my Peanut Truffle,

Jamie, ever since you peed your pants in fifth grade I knew we'd be friends for life! Being able to confide in you with any situation that comes my way is the strongest part of our friendship! Thanks so much for everything. I know we'll be friends for life!

Love you like a sister,
Mandie (Your Raspberry Parfait)

Garet,

Looking at this picture of you reminds us of what a cute and sweet little boy you were. Now looking at you standing tall and all grown up, you have become a real young man. We have had a great time watching you in all your sporting endeavors. It's been great fun. Please stay focused and keep marching forward.

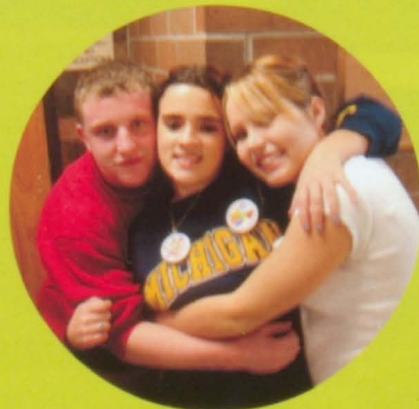

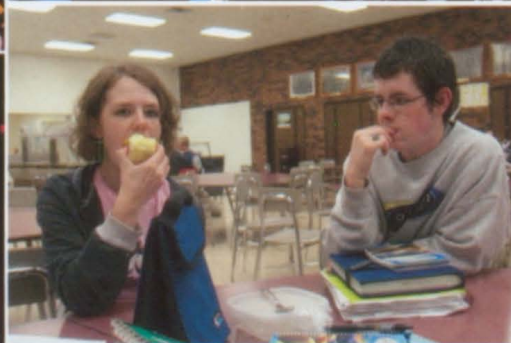

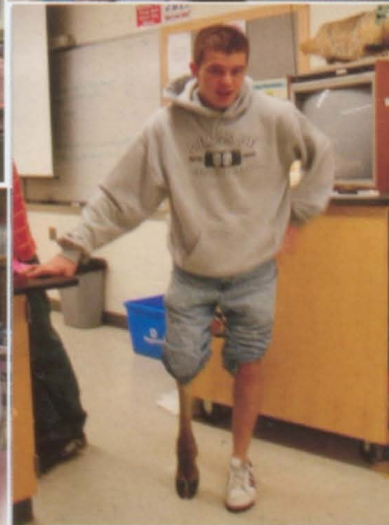

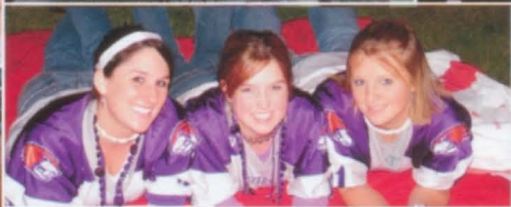

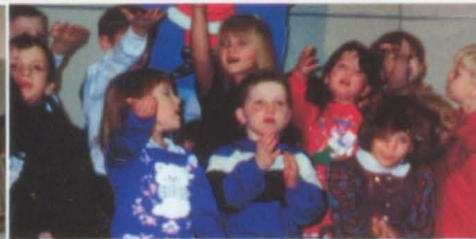

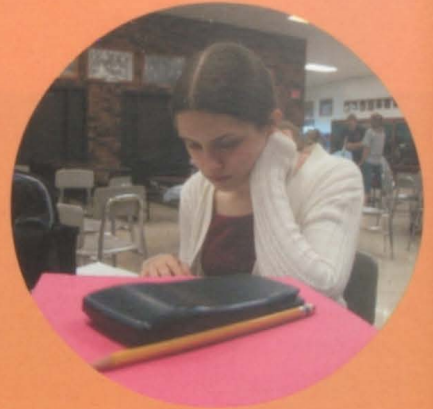

Love,
Your Mom and Dad

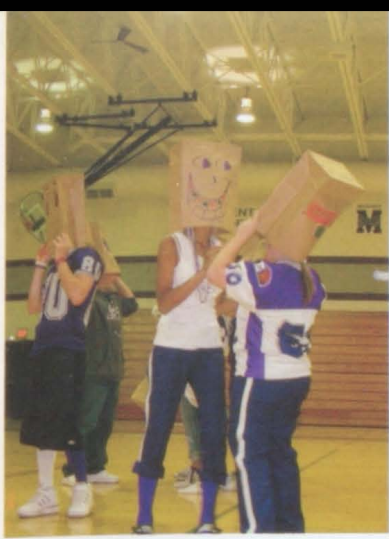

Jeremy,

You are our oldest grandson. As the parents of four daughters, you are an extra blessing to our family. Jeremy you have been a great big brother to Jordan, a side kick to your cousin Tyler, and a wonderful friend to your Grandpa and me. You are the source of a wonderful pride. Someone that has taken our lives and blessed them tenfold. We are very proud of you, of the accomplishments you have made, and of the future that will be yours. Jeremy you do not wish for other people to complete your dreams, you will make your own way and your own time.

Tiki Paradise

As you walked into the 2005 Junior Class Prom you were guided by tiki torches into a Tiki Paradise, equipped with palm trees, waterfalls, and fountains. This dreamy island slowly came together the Friday before Prom as the juniors worked hard to ensure that Saturday was a blast for all. When the clock struck 8:00pm couples and groups of friends came in by the dozens to get started on a night everyone had been waiting for all year. With the lights down way low and the D.J playing tons of great songs, both guys and girls came together to dance to the YMCA, Ice Ice Baby, and of course the song of the night, "You are my Everything" by 98 Degrees, chosen by the Junior Class.

At 10:00pm the King and Queen were to be named. The four nominees: Sephra Stotts, Krista Bergman, Trevor Marion, and Scott Herrick waited anxiously to find who were to represent the Junior class. The outcome was a close call, but a great turn out for everyone. Krista Bergman and Scott Herrick were more than happy to take the Princess and Prince crowns while Sephra Stotts and Trevor Marion were crowned 2005 Junior Class Prom King and Queen. The night was unforgettable and everyone was had a great time. Thanks Junior class, for one of the most amazing proms.

Insanity is fun

Homecoming week was finally here, and it came fast, not only for the seniors, but for everybody. The week started with students and staff still in their pajamas, and every day the outfits got a little stranger. Through all the excitement from the hot dog eating contest, orange pass, and leapfrog during lunch, students waited in anticipation for the decorating to begin. Students were busy decorating halls, snowmobile trailers, and perfecting their skits. Homecoming week was finally in full swing. We did a first this year, by having the parade on Saturday morning, and not just the student's floats were in the parade, but many from alumni and community members as well. There were many alumni members in the parade showing their school spirit and wishing the football team good luck for the game later that day. It was so crowded with purple and white at the football game it was hard for students to pick out their moms and dads to ask them for money. For once, the bleachers were packed and the sidelines were full all the way down the track. We had awesome fan support for the game from the alumni and community. The football players gave it their all against the Mc Donnell Macks, but were unable to pull through a victory.

Dancin' the night away

Homecoming 2005

The parade in the morning and the game going on most of the afternoon, was an advantage, it was nice and sunny. We couldn't ask for a better day to play, also you didn't need to look 20 pounds heavier in your winter clothes. The only disadvantage was that there was really no time to get ready for the big homecoming dance. After the game, girls scrambled back to their homes to put finishing touches on their hair, make-up, and nails. At around 6:30 girls were putting on their perfect dress and jewelry to match, and double checking that their high heeled shoes wouldn't make them taller than their dates. Pulling up to the dance, you could hear the DJ from "Rock n Roll to Go Plus" getting the dance started. Everyone was dancing the night away to songs like the chicken dance, macarana, and those o-so famous slow songs. When the clock struck 12:00 all that was left, were the fun memories to cherish

Winter Carnival 2006

Winter Carnival week started out with a great speaker, former NBA basketball star- Kevin Lynch, then ended with a fantastic talent show. Starting with the fine vocals of Felipe Barbosa and Nathalia Carabrava, and ending with Nate Bells' "magic show", (seeing how high he can throw food into his mouth). The most important part was about to begin though, the DANCE. Arriving in style is the number one goal for most students when the Winter

Carnival dance approaches. If that means buying the cutest skirt or a new pair of sunglasses, the goal will be accomplished. With a change of scenery and a crazy, new DJ the night was full of laughs and memories. Dancing around with sombreros, conga lines, and joining the ever-famous "cat-walk": the night was never ending with surprises and fun times. No one will ever forget, "Winter Carnival 2006 of Augusta!!!"

EDITOR IN CHIEF

Samma Johnson, senior, took over the Editor-In-Chief position for the '06 Annual. This was her second year as a member of the Annual Staff, and she enjoyed taking on the extra responsibilities that the EIC position required.

PICTURE PERFECT

Jake Wagner, junior and photo editor (as well as Jamie Forcier, senior), had plenty to do, but still found time to pose for a vanity-shot. Jake and Jamie spent time making sure that excellent pictures were being taken, and keeping the Digital Photos in order.

HELP ME!

A LITTLE ADVICE

Mr. Catt (right) offers some advice to Amanda Schreiner (left) about Jake Wagner's (center) copy for the High School Student Council page. Annual Staff members weren't afraid to ask Mr. Catt for advice on their pages, or for help with the, sometimes confusing, programs they used to put the yearbook together.

Packing The Year Away

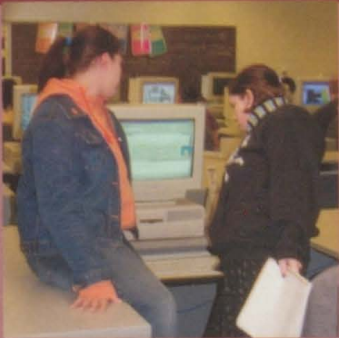

Never Before, Never Again took on many meanings for the Annual Staff this year. Never before had Sam Johnson filled the shoes of the Editor-in-Chief position, and never would she again. Never before had most of the hard working seniors on the '06 staff, which include: Chelsea Anderson, Amanda Carey, Jamie Forcier, Mandie Sieg, Jeremy Lazar, and Amanda Schreiner; been members of the team, and never would they be again.

The year had countless "first-and-onlys", which the staff could only hope to have captured on the pages of this publication, learning in the ins-and-outs of the publishing world. Together, the Annual Staff had to overcome many obstacles from the very beginning. Picking a theme, choosing a cover design, getting deadlines in on time, learning to work as a team...the list is endless with the difficulties that others can associate with the publishing

Chippewa Valley Press Association seminar where they attended many workshops. These included: What Makes a Good Yearbook, How To Take Interesting Photos, and The Basics of Planning Your Yearbook. Each member left the seminar with a new outlook on what it really takes to make a publication great.

Throughout the year, you could find a member of the staff in various places around the school, usually with a large camera in tow, but there was always one or two in the Business Education Department, working diligently under the watchful eye of the advisor, Mr. Catt.

The '06 Annual was corrected for errors by our copy editors, Allysa Johnson and Amanda Schreiner. The Photo Editors, Jamie Forcier and Jake Wagner, ensured that good pictures were being taken throughout the year for all of the events that happened in the High School and the Middle School. Finally, our Business Editors, Chelsea Anderson and Jeremy Lazar sold ad space to area businesses.

WORKIN' HARD?

Seniors Amanda Carey (far) and Jeremy Lazar (center), along with junior, Nathan Pettis (close) are hard at work on their separate pages, picking layouts, placing pictures, and writing informative copy.

CVPA SEMINAR

Jeremy Lazar, Mandie Sieg, and Jamie Forcier, seniors, discuss what they learned at the Chippewa Valley Press Association seminar that the staff attended at the University of Wisconsin: Eau Claire campus.

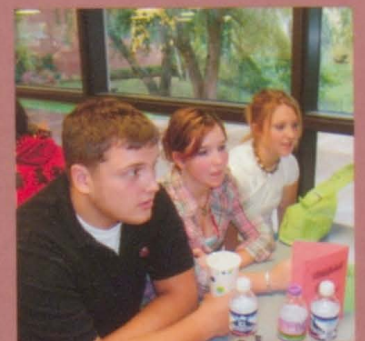

JOINING FORCES

The two copy editors, Allysa Johnson, sophomore, and Amanda Schreiner, senior, join forces to make sure that every page is error free, and grammatically correct. Everyone on staff had to hand their pages over to their scrutinizing eyes before publishing.

TEAM WORK

Amanda Carey, senior, helps Mandie Sieg, senior, out, putting in her own input. No page was made without consideration from the other staff members, which is part of what made the yearbook a team effort.

National Honor Society is a very distinguished organization comprised of students who display excellence and brilliance. National Honor Society is unlike other extra-curricular activities in the aspect that instead of voluntarily joining, you have to be chosen to be a member of this elite group.

Throughout the year, NHS held regular meetings and came up with several ideas, such as fundraisers, volunteering, and holding scholarship lab writing nights.

The scholarship writing nights, held in December and January, were very beneficial to the students, and held the advantage of having a few teachers to lend a helping grammatical, and informative hand.

Another great event that this year's group of NHS members participated in was the Polar Plunge on February 4th, 2006 at Carson Park, in Eau Claire. A special thank you went out to those teachers and parents who donated money to their endeavor.

Mr. Sigurdson the 2005-2006 student council Advisor!

Senior Student Council Members come together to discuss some new information.

Through the ring of fire of academics, extra-curricular activities, sports, and work, people might have thought where's the time for some good fun and entertainment? These representatives, ranging from Freshmen to Seniors, combined their super hero powers to provide relief from the scholastic breezes that blew. They entertained and amazed people with their bright and courageous ideas. You would have thought that with all the stress of putting together activities such as Homecoming and Winter Carnival, they might get a little overwhelmed, but the challenges were taken to a different level when they became members of the Student Council. Some of Augusta High's greatest thinkers were in student council. They made it a better environment here at our school by changing things and announcing activities one week before they began. You could see the changes because they provided all the fun activities during Homecoming Week, such as the orange pass and the paper bag dance that we all enjoyed. Other changes included Winter Carnival, which was held at the Lion's Hall instead of at the school. Student Council stuck with their plan of providing that shelter throughout this year. They were very happy to know that they ended the school year making a difference. As ideas went flying, they were brave to take the challenge that they breezes blew before them.

FFA 2005-2006 started out much like any other year, although everyone was in for a huge ride. Leading the group, Ms. Schlough was excited to start the year with her six new officers, Rebecca Robinson (President), Sara Stary (Vice President), Kimberly Vesely (Treasurer), Samantha Pettis (Secretary), Amanda Carey (Reporter), and Scott Herrick (Parliamentarian & Sentinel). Together they created a year that would blow the Augusta FFA members out of the water, with events such as paintballing, state officer visits, bowling, conventions, workshops and much more. Beginning the year, a group of six students took an exciting trip to the 2005 State Convention which was held at the Convention Center in Madison, WI. After state, soon came nationals, where 35,000 FFA members throughout the U.S. gathered in Louisville, Kentucky to receive awards and show off their talents. Ms. Schlough, along with four officers and one involved member, experienced key speakers including Amanda Gore, Stedman Graham, and Same Glen, who spoke of courage, inspiration, and determination. With 54 members, the FFA held strong and worked hard while helping others, during the annual fruit sales, and corn drive, which quickly involved the community and its members. Many exciting events such as donkey basketball, the St Paul rodeo, and the Mall of America all passed by until an exhilarating FFA week arrived. FFA week was filled with fun games and events like turkey bowling, calf bottle drinking, sledding and skiing. Ms. Schlough explained that "it has been a great year in FFA, we have done numerous activities that have brought the FFA members together as a strong group in this school and community", and she looks forward to what will come next year.

FCCLA

Family, Career and Community Leaders of America

Extra! Extra! Read all about it! This school year the Augusta FCCLA Chapter made the newstands with all of their super hero sized community service, leadership and STAR Event projects! Chapter members quickly became friends as they learned more about what FCCLA is and how they could make an impact on their families, their school and their community by using the skills that FCCLA brought them during the year!

For here & to go

Augusta FCCLA involved in local, state, national leadership and service projects.

Local Effort
Family, Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA) began as Future Community Leaders of America (FCLA). Not only did the organization offer a chance to learn, it also offered a chance to learn in a fun way. The August FCCLA chapter held a Friday night fish fry to raise money for upcoming leadership events, fundraisers and projects.

STAR Events
All my neighbors should always show up to our STAR events. Anderson said the STAR events are "Students Taking Action with Recognition."

Community Service
Augusta FCCLA members joined the Breakfast Builders literacy program, said Anderson. Such projects enable FCCLA members to attend statewide leadership conferences and competitions, and promote literacy.

Public Speaking
A lot of people have improved their public-speaking skills and their speech-writing skills," added Anderson.

Leadership
When FCCLA members participate in community-service projects like Breakfast Builders, they sharpen their skills as well as teach new skills

This year can be separated from the rest by saying there is more leadership and motivated students. If there had to be a team leader Donovan would probably win the vote who made president this year. Emily Voorhies, Brady Barka, Nick Perkovich, Trent Evenson, Travis Haddeman, and Kyle Dusso join them. The rankings are Emily Treasurer, Donovan President, Trent Vice President, and Trevor Secretary.

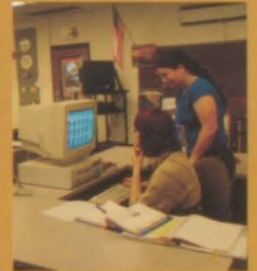

Fun With Web Design

Web Design was a class that was taught by Mr. Catt, and taught students how to create their own websites using today's technology, and whatever else Augusta High school had to offer.

They learned to use HTML, which required you to type in codes. If they happened to be the kind of student that didn't like typing in codes all day, there was home! They were able to make use of Microsoft Front Page, a program that takes away messy codes, and allows the user to simply place text, pictures, backgrounds, and anything else wanted on the webpage.

1. Sean gets some input from Amanda
2. Jason lends a hand to Danielle, and Emily.
3. Kevin and Brad working together.
4. Sarah and Sam discuss a class project.

Along with learning to use HTML and FrontPage, they learned what to do, and not do when using the internet, including topics like identity theft, and online-predators.

6. 10: B/F, L/R: Brad Messerschmidt, Kevin Kickbusch, Sean McCormick, Amanda Schreiner, Sam Lewis, Allysa Johnson, Jason Troxel, Sarah Richardson, Malissa Pettis, Jenny Jacobson, Emily Voorhies, Danielle Solie, Jessica Schroeder, Chelsea Barka, Laura King, and Abby Baader (6, back, Eric Kampa)

Is Web Design Fun?

"Yes, because you get to learn how to create your own webpages, and spend forty-five minutes with the ever-wonderful, Mr. Catt!" -Amanda Schreiner, senior.

"Yes, I not only enjoyed what Mr. Catt taught me, but what I learned about HTML, and creating a website." -Jason Troxel, junior.

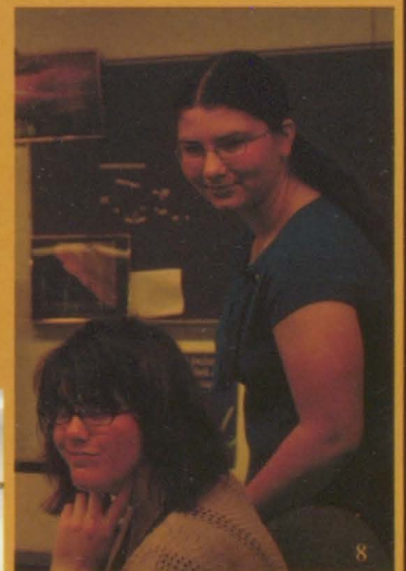

7. The Freshman girls have a discussion about something related to HTML.

8. Sarah and Sam take some time to toss the camera quizzical looks. 9. Missy and Jenny help out Allysa with something on her webpage.

"I hope that everyone in Web Design has a good experience."

I Don't Need No Education!

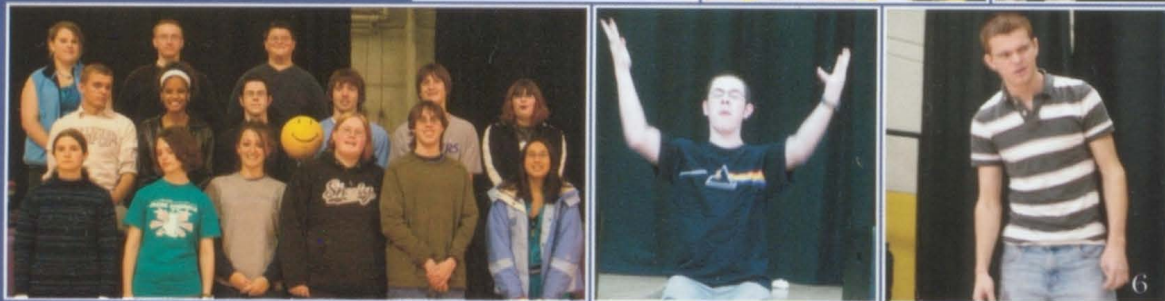

One act play was under new direction in the 2005 season as Mrs. Sue Maenner was on maternity leave. Taking her place was the new English II/2 teacher, Mr. Michael Collins.

The play, entitled The Education of Janet O'Malley, was very different from what previous casts had done, revolving around one character named "Janet" (portrayed by Julia Fitch), who doesn't realize how much education really matters -that is, until she gets "beaned in the head" by a dodge ball in gym class.

Trapped in a wacky dream world, Janet must use her education to get out of odd situations such as: escaping jail with Jailbird Rocko (Conrad Gabler), being on Who Wants To Be a Millionaire with Regis Philbin (Sean McCormick), and a contestant on Brainstompers hosted by Tony Drummand (Kayla Messerschmidt).

Although the team did not advance past District competition, the whole team had many good times working on the 2005 One Act Play.

1. "Janet" (Julia Fitch), and "Jack" (Samma Johnson) talk about Janet's school frustration
2. Janet gets stuck in a ladder!
3. Janet gets pulled over by a traffic cop (Sephra Stotts)!
4. Sam Lewis waits for her side-line part during the "Regis scene"

5. I'M REGIS PHILBIN! (Sean McCormick)
6. Scott Herrick depicts a womanizing Senator.
7. Janet gets a lesson the game show "BrainStompers" -OW!
8. The cast relaxes before practice.
9. A General, a Lieutenant, and a Corporal try shut down the US Missile systems.
10. Cast waits patiently outside of the Main Street Gym for practice.

11. The group gets ready to leave for Greenwood High, District competition.
12. Krista Lathrop is ready and rarin' to go at District Competition.
13. Julia Fitch hides under a desk, and Krista Lathrop tries to make room for herself, in the face of impending doom!
14. Kayla Messerschmidt gets a massage from Sean McCormick before practice at the Community Center.

The team consisted of a sundry of people and activities. Carrie Meyer, Sephra Stotts, Kristin Henke, and Brittney Shaffer participated in playing acting. Melissa Ida, Samma Johnson, and Kayla Messerschmidt participated in Prose. Cindi Fuggett and So Yeon Yim performed Demonstration speeches. Adam Sewell along with Nate Bell and Matthew Trescher performed a Group Interp piece, as well as Stacey Reetz and Kara Peiper.

Several students participated independently in events such as: Julia Fitch in Story Telling, Scott Herrick in Radio Speaking, Daniel Solie in Public Address, Brian Bishop in Moments in History, and Olivia Buvala in Oratory.

There were several meets around the area, the season starting out for some at the UW-Eau Claire meet on February 4th, or the Eau Claire North High meet, February 11th. Sub-district was at Merrillan High School this year and the District at Memorial High School in Eau Claire, and State at the UW-Madison campus.

Samma Johnson, Senior, working hard on her deposition for Mock Trial

As a project for Mr. Fortseth's grant-funded classes, several students made a kayak which was then raffled off with several other items to raise money for the class.

Augusta High School students did a lot of activities far beyond what is typically covered in a yearbook. These pages barely even begin to cover the various activities conducted by students, or special programs the school ran.

Mock Trial started with a big turnout, but finished with just one participant. Samma Johnson continued taking part in Mock Trial, sending in two depositions for the case to be judged.

Augusta was a part of a few other opportunities, including one that provided the Agriculture Department with a cheese vat that tours around several schools in the area. Also new was a wireless lab, which gave the school several brand new HP laptop computers, which were available to students for use throughout the day in the IMC, or for Middle School students. The computers were housed in an English class room.

On February 16th, former NBA player Kevin Lynch visited AHS. After giving a speech highlighting the importance of working hard, and doing your best, he stayed and watched the Winter Carnival Talent Show.

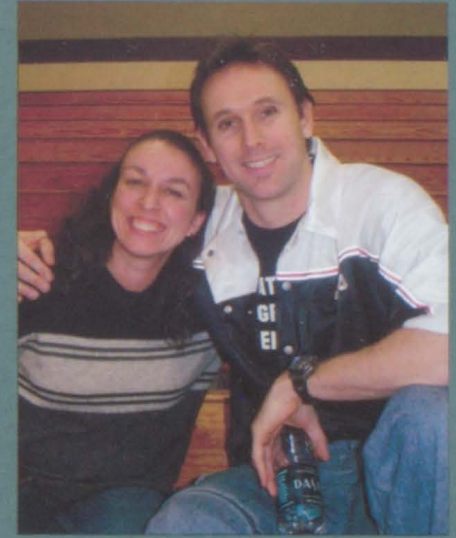

The Augusta Middle School held a spelling bee, Riley McCormick winning first place, and Justin Ludtke placing second as an alternate. Riley then went on to the next level competition.

The Middle School underwent a lot of changes with new course offerings in the After-School Program. Some of these classes included Lego-Robotics, and Digital-Video Production. These courses were taught by Mrs. Crowe, Mrs. Clark, Mr. Sands, and Ms. Writz, as well as several others.

The Agriculture classes got a special treat due to a new grant. The Cheese maker, that visited Augusta in November. During that time period, classes got to make various cheeses and learn the processes to make different kinds.

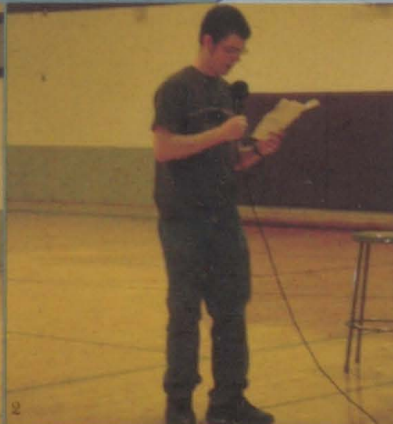

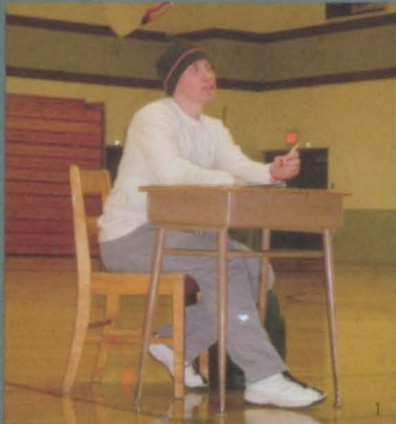

Kevin Lynch, former NBA basketball player - now motivational speaker visited Augusta February 16th, staying to watch the Talent Show.

Mr. Tom Crowe was promoted to the position of Dean of Students

4. The flag girls did a new routine to Jessica Simpson's remake of "These Boots Were Made for Walkin'"

Many computers were supplied to the school through various grants, and were a hot item for people check out in the library.

Mrs. Burback was the advisor for the class during 5th hour of the 2nd semester. Students involved in the class included four juniors, Jake Wagner, Cindi Fugget, Nathan Pettis, Steven Kunz and Stephen Schick, and senior Amber Kunz.

Hope Becomes Reality

Have you ever dreamed of attending a school that consisted of nothing but outdoors, animals, and education? A small hope became a reality when three science teachers and a group of wildlife experts joined together and created a school of wildlife and educational fun.

With three excited instructors Mr. Tweed, Mr. Hadorn, and Ms. Holmes, along with 42 students, the Wildlands School was up and rolling at the start of the 2005-2006 academic year. School began much like any other, with students arriving on a bus and sitting in a classroom.

Only this was not a typical school...although students still achieve the original credit requirements needed, studies are more focused on science and research. 7th and 8th graders learned math, science, reading, writing, social studies, and other educational skills through the categories of local, regional and state environment.

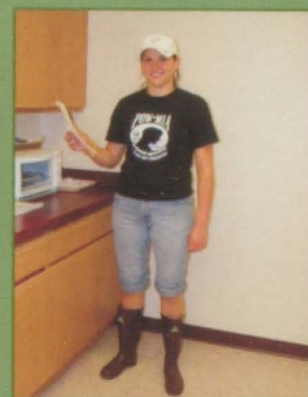

research, geographic information, advanced communications, public speaking, technical writing, publications and math.

When talking with advisor Mr. Tweed, I asked, "What was your favorite part of the Wildlands Charter School?" He replied "I enjoy how it gives the students more opportunities to learn in new ways." He explained that the charter school has given many different types of students a fun way to learn and become more involved with their environment. The school has had many activities and field trips, such as Crystal Cave and a Twins game, which connect the whole group and helped in getting to know new students. The Wildlands Charter School was a huge success and all the instructors were excited to see what the next year would bring.

To the right a wildlands student shows me the path to the animal center Below Gareth Baader, Hunter Aent, and Jake Yule prepare to collar a raccoon they had just trapped.

The focus of Wildlands was mainly the same but, it offers more advanced studies that aided in giving the student the credits needed for graduating from high school. Class courses included field biology, ecology, geology, astronomy, biological

Hitting the High Notes

Practices were intense, tunes were perfected, mornings were early, but it was all worth it. This year the High School Choir continued to wow the crowd with their high climbing performances. With new members and new motivation the year started out with the fall concert and included performances such as solo ensemble, large group festival, caroling, the Winter Concert, All Conference Choir, and ending the year out with the Spring Concert and graduation. Dedicated to her choir members and determined to put on an entertaining show. The high school choir director, Roberta Sperstad says, "The choir has worked hard to improve their sound, stretch their ears into challenging music and make it to lessons. The hard work has really paid off!"

High school band was something to look forward to when entering High school. It has been 15 years for one teacher in particular, Mrs. Kelli Zastrow, who has been here at Augusta High. She leads organizations including the Jazz band, Pep band, and Concert band. She also has the Senior High band members help out. With their amazing music that comes out of not only their instruments, but also their hearts. The students like learning new skills they could use in the future. This year's high school band got along very well and they all had fun and also got to accomplish a great deal of musical goals. Everyone looks forward to another great year, making wonderful melody and listen to the direction of Mrs. Zastrow and the officers in charge of the Music Department, which is Senior, Kassie Lee, who is the President, Senior Luke Wilson, who is the Vice President, Junior Sara Stary, who is the Secretary, and Junior Brennan Dickinsen, who is the Treasurer. These students got to do a lot for their class even if it was just being themselves and having fun.

The 6th and 7th grade girls that pumped up the crowd every high school game reached the fans with their outrageous cheers and loud shouts. As Coach Deneshia Stotts would have said, "There was a shining star amongst the girls", and that star was Sara Connett. Sara started out very quiet before she burst out of her shell shining and always smiling. Deneshia explained that this season was a lot of fun for her and she had a blast with the girls and all of their fans. "This year was a huge success for the squad"

Allison Embrosky said that the best thing about cheerleading was "just going out there and cheering." Allison also said, "the harder you try the better you will get". Some of their cheers consisted of B-E-S-T, Knock em Down. Brr. With All Your Might, and Truckin. All of the junior high school cheerleaders looked forward to another great year wowing the crowds with more great cheers and loud shouts of school spirit.

2005 proved to be a great year for the girls' golf team. Two members returned for a second year, senior, Kayla Messerschmidt and sophomore, Danielle Soile. There were also quite a few new members: freshmen, Leah Grams, Erin Nelson, and Jaimie Herrick, sophomore, Alison Sell and senior, Julia Fitch. This was the first year that Coach Diehl had retired from teaching, but she enjoyed spending her time with her "par-tee" girls. 2005 was also a great year for the boys' golf team, with their long driver Jordan Klingbeil shooting the ball amazing distances. Jeremy Lazar, the team's fairway hitter, doing well when he wasn't sitting around talking with Courtney Sell. The next spring, the boys hoped for another great season even with last year's rookie freshmen players coming back as hardened veteran golfers.

Softball season started out much like any other season, new players, new coaches, new positions, the first practice, and eventually the first game of the conference season did not go as planned, the 2005 varsity Softball team always kept their heads held high. Starting out the season, coaches Tom Puchalla, Jason Knetter, and Amy Stanford, along with their 13 new players were all anxious to see what the new season would bring. Games flew by as girls were ready positions, learning new things, and working hard as a team. Of course, like any other sport, there were ups and downs which led to victories and heartbreaks. Things were looking up as girls such as Allison Kaeding were hitting out of the park home runs, Reggie Horrell diving five feet to catch a ball, Mandie Sieg throwing girls out at home and Beth Fugett pitching strike outs left and right. As always, what goes up usually comes down, upsets also came to the field as Beth Fugett and Amanda Carey experienced arm and knee injuries, and Allison Kaeding got hit in the face with a ball. Coach Puchalla explained, "I wish we could have won more close games, every girl had a different talent that added to the outcome of every game." Even though every game was different from battle wound blood, to victories and defeats, the team always seemed to stay together and keep united. I asked some of the girls what about the season they liked. All the girls had some thing different to say including bus rides, knee-throwing, sliding in the gym with five layers of clothes, and Knetter's "Oh Boy" while successfully showing the team how to properly do a "crow-hop". The softball season 2005 was a very different season from any other. Incredible ups and miserable downs are what made the season so memorable in every way. Many of the players, parents, and coaches are very excited to see what would happen in the 2006 Varsity and Junior Varsity season that was coming up.

Swing Batter, Batter, Swing!

Fresh cut grass, the ping of the aluminum bats, and the pounding of the leather could only mean one thing, baseball season. The first day of baseball was May 13, 2005. Coach Dave Halvorson was excited to see such a large number of students out for baseball. 17 kids came to baseball practice on the 13th. The first three weeks of practice seemed to take forever, as everyone was eager to get the season started. The Beavers play in a very competitive Dairyland conference for baseball.

June 2nd marked the first game against West Salem, Gale-Ettrick-Trempeleau. The Beavers started the season off right with a run homerun in the first inning by Jordan Klingbeil. However G-E-T scored 11 runs and answered. The Beavers threatened in the 4th, scoring 3 more runs, and leaving the bases loaded. That started a drought as the baseball team lost their first 10, before they beat Eleva-Strum, 10-2. Jordan Klingbeil got the win on the mound and also homered, as well as Mike Stary, who hit a grand slam in the 4th. Jordan Klingbeil was the team's leading pitcher. Luke Wilson and Mike Stary were the team's leading hitters. For the Beaver's playoff game, they collided with Melrose-Mindoro, a team that the Beavers played well against earlier in the season, losing 5-6 in 8 innings at Melrose, and 4-11 in Augusta. They decided to put Jordan Klingbeil on the mound, and the Beavers stuck around until the 6th inning, when the Mustangs scored 4 runs to make the score 10-6. The Beavers couldn't overcome that deficit, which sadly ended the season.

The team finished the season 1-6. The seniors were missed, but the team also received great contributions from the rest of the team, and had great potential for the next season. Seniors Luke Wilson and Mike Stary planned on leading the team next year on offense. There should have been an abundance of pitchers for the next year.

Cinderella Story

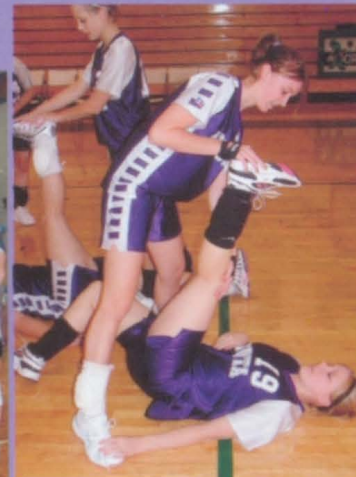

2005 Volleyball Division 4 Regional Champions

The tide changed once playoffs were in full force. The Lady Beavers went to Elmwood with their heads held high and a strong sense of teamwork. They came out strong and with key hits from sophomores Alison Kaeding and Jessica Schroeder, the team headed towards a victory in three games. Advancing to the 2nd round of playoffs, against Alma, the number one seed in their regional. Alma, being undefeated, and Augusta, the opposite, everyone was expecting a loss. However, when the Lady Beavers wowed the crowd with their quickness and smart playing, Alma was whipped out of playoffs by the number five seed, and Augusta was on to the Regional Championship! The crowd started to grow and the Beavers continued gaining confidence. With Alma out of the way, the girls were ready to face Pepin. The game was not as hard as the Beavers expected and they ended up taking the Regional Championship, the first time in a decade. The school and community were proud of what the Beavers had accomplished, and they showed their pride through flowers and balloon bouquets, and congratulations, and their support heading into Sectionals. As Sectionals arrived, the volleyball team walked the hallways like royalty, with the teachers buying each of the girls a flower to wear on their Regional Championships T-shirt, and a pep-rally 8th hour to get them pumped up. The school was being very supportive, and the team was so thankful for that. They headed to Eleva-Strum to face a tough competitor, Hillsboro. Though the Lady Beavers fought hard, they came short a win and were halted to a stop, and the season had ended. With the dreams of state being demolished the seniors were proud of a great season and grateful to have such a great group of underclassmen to play with.

Fighting Beavers

A New Year A New Season

The Season

The season started off slow with the head coach of the past 2 years resigning and Greg Doverspike, the assistant coach under Coach K, stepping up to the plate to become the In-term Head Coach for the season. With a new schedule for the season, the Beavers had to play against Gales- Ettric- Trempealeau, who is more than twice the size of our school. The game ended with more points on the G.E.T. side of the school board and the disappointed Beavers had to start the season off with a loss, but the past is the past and the Beavers had to move on.

The next week's game was against the Fall Creek Crickets. Both Augusta and Fall Creek were 0-1 and were looking for a win. Both teams were fought hard, marching up and down the field, but at the end of the game it was 14-14. Overtime and it was Augusta's ball! In 2 downs, Jessy Herrick got into the endzone, but Augusta's extra point was blocked, so the Beavers were in need of a stop. Fall Creek answers back and the extra point kick was going to decide whether if the game was over or into another OT. The kick was high and right so the game went into double OT. Augusta was going to play defense first and needed to stop the Crickets to anything but a score. The Beavers prevailed holding them to a field goal. On the very next play, a power sweep to Jessy Herrick giving the beavers 6 point OT win, 26-23.

The Beavers had momentum going into the next game against the Loyal Greyhounds. But all momentum disappeared to a blowing loss to the Greyhounds. Augusta, bound for a more wins, played the Owen-Withee Black Hawks on the upcoming Friday. The game was a boost for the Augusta Beavers with a punishing win 48-25. The next 4 games against Thorpe, McDonell, Gilman, and Regis were all disappointing to the Beavers after being defeated by them all. After the loss to Gilman, the Beavers knew they had no chance of making it to playoffs so now they had to play for pride and build the momentum up for the next year. The last game of the season was against a tough Greenwood team, who had the same record as the Beavers did. Neither teams were in the playoffs but both teams were looking to end their season on a good note. A great game was played all 48 minutes. The game came down to under a minute, with Greenwood 12 yards to go. We held them to 3rd down and they were looking to score in the next 2 possessions. On that 3rd down a pass was thrown to the endzone, and was intercepted by Conrad Gabler who finally kneeled. The game was over with Augusta over Greenwood 15-12. A good season for the Beavers even though they didn't make playoff, but after all, the players can only get better!

Fabulous Flag Squad

The Seniors Final Goodbye

"I wish you all the best of luck in the upcoming years. Be nice to Mrs. Zastrow, she is a great coach. Also, work hard to perfection; even if that means working outside of practices. In the long run it is all worth it!"

Carrie Meyer, senior

"Performing for the flag squad since I have been a freshmen has been awesome. I will miss all the girls very much and I hope they all stick with twirling until they are seniors. A reminder to the ones I am leaving behind, come to practice on time, don't be naughty like me, all it does is give Mrs. Z a headache!"

Mandie Sieg, senior

Waking up early, practicing until perfection, and performing in front of a large group of adults, teachers, peers, and parents were just a few of the challenges that the flag squad encountered. With most the squad graduating last year, the three remaining upperclassmen, seniors Mandie Sieg and Carrie Meyer, and junior Amanda Conrad, had to hold try-outs so the squad could be complete. As Mandie, Carrie, and Amanda observed the eager hopefuls, the competition was fierce, but at the end of the week the final six were picked and posted as the 2005-2006 flag squad members. With a young squad and not much seniority, it was going to be tough to teach new moves, pick out a song, and memorize the complicated steps and twirls that come along with performing. Everyone was optimistic and for good reason. Homecoming Week came with 2 important performances; in the gym in front of the entire school and of course, on the field during half time at the all important Homecoming game. Both had incredible outcomes and the "first performance" jitters were free and clear from the newcomers. Then entered basketball season, and with basketball season came Parents Night - Another opportunity to get the flag squad in front of a crowd. With this being the senior's farewell performance it was their choice on the song, "These Boots Were Made for Walking" by Jessica Simpson was the unanimous vote between the two of them and everyone agreed that this would be a very fun song to perform to. It was a great song to end a great year.

The 2005-2006 high school boy's wrestling team was filled with a lot of heart and determination. Almost right away, the long time leader and dedicated senior, Garett Baader was sidelined with an injury. That was not, however going to stop the wrestling team from moving forward. Coach Larson, who was an inspiration to many on the team, kept their heads held high and their eyes on the prize, which in the end proved a very exciting season as guys like Ben Mosley had to step up and wrestle Varsity matches and prove themselves worthy.

Taking the Next Step

The Augusta Boys Basketball team had high expectations entering the 2005-2006 season, because of last year's regional championship and because of the returning players. The Beavers cruised through their opener against Whitehall, and lost a tough non-conference game by one against Loyal, that same week. They opened the conference season with a loss to Regis, but bounced back with a win over McDonnell. Two straight losses to Fall Creek and Osseo-Fairchild hurt the Beaver's morale. The team came together for two non-conference wins over Elmwood and Alma Center Lincoln. Conference champion, Altoona, crushed the Beavers' hopes of a 3 game winning streak. The Beavers rebounded with a big win over Cadott. After a loss to Gilman, the guys rallied with a 3 game winning streak against Regis, McDonnell, and Fall Creek, but ended with a tough loss to Osseo-Fairchild.

The loss started a five game skid. They lost to Altoona, and lost their last three games to Cadott, Gilman, and Eleva-Strum by a combined 7 points. The Beavers ended their regular season with a win in Thorp in the 7th place Cloverbelt game. The Beavers traveled to Elmwood for their first Regional game. The game was back and forth the first half. The Beavers jumped out to a 13 point lead at one point in the third, but Elmwood had a late run. The Beavers had two chances at the end of the game, but couldn't convert. The Beavers lost a nail biter 48-47. The team may not have taken another step further in the playoffs or in the conference season, but they took a step forward as people and basketball players. The team overcame many major obstacles throughout the year, but still managed to take that next step.

A New Beginning

2005-2006 Girls Basketball

Highlights of the Season.

The season started out with very high expectations for a very young team. With only 2 varsity players back from last years team, senior Mandie Sieg and sophomore Alison Kaeding, many new players had to step in and fill roles that were open due to graduation. With a new coach leading the Lady Beavers, Coach Sarah Brenner, the team was ready to work hard and get conditioned for their first non-conference match up against Alma. As the Beavers cruised towards victory with a 51-37 finish, the young teams confidence rose and the hype began to grow. Going into conference games, the Lady Beavs knew that the competition was going to be fiercer and they all would have to work a lot harder if they wanted to prove themselves. So as the season went on the girls ended with a 3-11 record, with some tough losses and some joyous wins. As playoffs arrived the girls were ready to step it up. With winning on the road to the number 4 seed, Alma, and the number 1 seed, Elmwood, the girls headed smoothly into the Regional Championship, to face the number 2 seed, Independence. The Lady Beavers broke out of the locker room ready to go and went on a huge run, however, the Indies weren't ready to go home and made a run of their own. Going into the locker room at half time the score was held tight at 22-22. With the score going one way, then the other; no one knew who was going to pull it off. Unfortunately, at the end of the game, Independence pulled off some clutch free-throws and took the Regional Championship by 3 points. The season had ended for the girls, yet they had set a bar for years to come, and will leave this season behind with lots of new memories and new beginnings.

Learning for Tomorrow

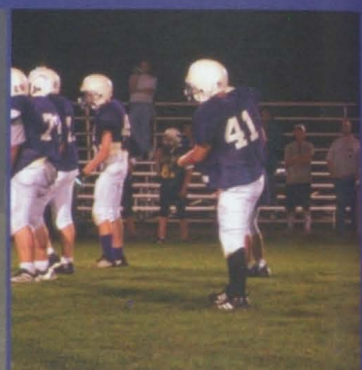

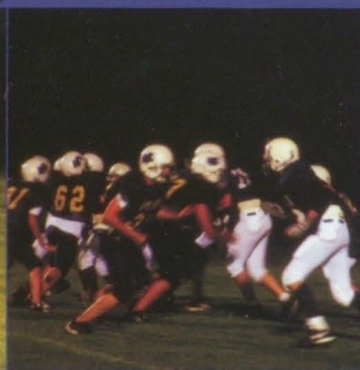

MIDDLE SCHOOL FOOTBALL

Swarms of Middle School boys showed up on the first day of football ecstatic as ever. Even the coaches, first year coach, Mr. Sigurdson, and Mr. Hadorn, were excited for this season, because of the talent the team had. The great season came and went. With every practice and every game, each player improved. Coach Sigurdson mentioned that the players not only improved with physical skills, but also with mental skills. The 8th grade record was 1-5, not as good as some had hoped, but there were many positive points within their season. They gave each other support, which is extremely important. The 7th graders' record stood at 0-6 at the end of the season, but looked forward to take what they learned this year, so they can have a great season the next year.

The coaches were very pleased with how much the 6th and 7th grade players learned during the season. When asked if he saw consistent improvement, Coach Sigurdson replied with a resounding yes, and also added, not only did they improve individually, but also as a team.

The 8th graders will take everything they learned in middle school and bring it into high school football next year. The 7th graders will work hard to improve for next year, when they will use everything from their 7th grade year, and make it a successful season. Everyone improved greatly this year, and was very excited for next year.

Extreme Activities

"These activities are created by the kids themselves," says Mrs. Dekan. "This School year the sixth graders have raked leaves for the elderly. The eighth graders did the High Ropes Challenge at the university, and the seventh graders saw The Chronicles of Narnia. The middle schoolers still have done the holiday dances such as Homecoming, Halloween, valentines and Spring Fling. They also had the auction before Holiday break and the end of the year auction and activities."

Sink it, Sink it!

Middle School girl's basketball, beginning of a life long skill that can be learned and practiced for a lifetime.

Coach Brantner and Coach Patrick Hahn coached the 6th-8th grade girl's basketball. Coach Brantner coached 18 6th and 7th graders. She was able to finish all their games with all the girls getting an equal chance to participate and have fun as a team. She says, "The best thing about being a coach was getting to know the girls and getting their respect for the things they did as a team."

Their warm-ups consisted of running and stretching. Then they worked on dribbling, passing, and shooting. The outlook that Coach Brantner hoped for, was to win some games and improve their skills for the future. There were no favorites in basketball, every-one worked hard and did their best. If Coach Brantner had to rate her team she said she probably wouldn't, "because only time would really tell how well they would do in the future."

Pass and Don't be Passed

Middle School Track and Field

Rain or shine the middle school track and field team were always ready to work hard to accomplish individual goals made at the beginning of the season. With outgoing coaches, Mr. Jeff Hadorn and Ms. Arica Schlough, the team was optimistic about a great season. "Watching the team progress was one of the best parts about coaching," speaks out Ms. Schlough, "they worked hard and made the job fun." As the students got jump, high jump, shot-put, discus, and all kinds of running events, they learned which particular events they were especially good at, and others that were just fun. All in all the year was a success and the students found it to be loads of fun. The coaches were pleased with the consistent improvement of the kids and the constant hard work ethic. The 2005 Middle School Track Season was a blast for athletes and coaches.

Middle School Forensics

Forensics is an activity where students are able to develop skills in speaking and performing in front of an audience. This program provides an opportunity for students to build knowledge, confidence, and a skill in speaking. There are 13 events to choose from which means there is something for everyone.:

Acting, poetry, theater, storytelling, four minute speaking, and news reporting. Students can participate in an individual event or participate in a group event. Participants compete in three regular tournaments and two level tournaments. Mrs. Lippert and Ms. Skoyen coach the middle school forensics.

After working hard making their selection perfection the girls show off for the camera.

Dates of Forensics meets:

- January 16th
Fall Creek
- January 26th
Augusta
- February 7th Level 1

What would happen, if there was... No More Homework

The Eighth Grade Production

It was dark, the curtains had been drawn, everyone was waiting to watch the play. No More Homework. With a name like that, everyone was assuming that it would be about kids going on a rampage and trying to get the principal to make a rule where you no longer had homework. Well, I guess you can put it like that.

The principal of the school was fed up with the daily encounters of his job, so he left and went on a vacation, leaving his best student, who was also in student council, in charge. She was played by Kayla Huth. The real vice-principal was very sick, so he could not come for the day. Therefore, another student, Brandin Henke, stood in as the vice principal. They both tried to keep the school under control. However, the evil girl, Sherry Gutsch, stole money from the school, which caused an uproar. Brandin Henke, and other students and staff, got into a fight, a fight that never would have occurred if the principal hadn't decided to leave and go on a vacation.

Brandin Henke:

"The most frustrating part about the whole play was having to wear a dress!"

Brandin played the "student" vice principal

Valarie Dehnke:

She played the part of the ditzy little girl. She was left in charge for a while, and loved every minute of it. She was a fun character in the play.

Kyle Dusso:

"My favorite part of being in the 8th grade play was being able to hang out with all my friends"

Kyle played the part of the disturbed English teacher

Kayla Huth:

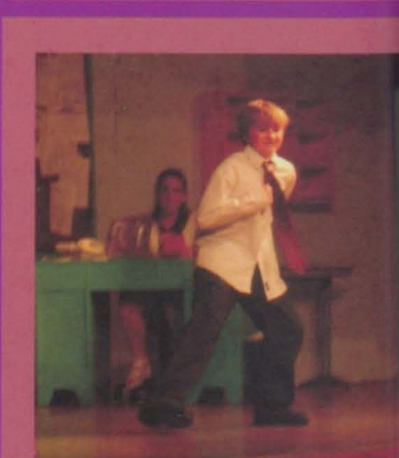

She played the part of the student council president who took over for the principal when he went away; she was very stressed out.

Leah Grams (the crazy janitor) and Jaimie Herrick (head of school board) take a moment to smile before their big performance.

Being in the 8th grade play is not always about being serious, it's about having fun too!

Student Council

Middle School Student Council

Leading, planning, and the budgeting of middle school events was a tough job but Middle School student council leaders were up for the challenge. They were very open minded about working with one another; brought new opportunities and choices to their classmates. Other things these young adults did involved making hard decisions that forever reflected their personalities such as which DJ's to get at school dances. After all this hard work they did help plan some rewards such as incentives including when they attended the movie The Chronicles of Narnia or when they held beach parties as well as watching the play Whipping Boy. If they got their homework done they were able to watch movies in school. These young leaders of the junior high classes were responsible and devoted. They helped raise money for the concessions stand planned by the Booster Club. The council also gave money to the Veterans Day Parade and paid for the delivery of gifts to senior citizens. When asked what these people will do after high school, they all said they would attend college and it looks like they are off to a good start on making positive decisions that will help them out later in life.

Mrs. Judy Dekan was the advisor of the Middle. She is a great teacher and role model who helped out all of the young council members make good decisions and choosing the right paths for them and their classmates.

Fall Concert: Christmas Concert & Pops Concert are the names of concerts that the middle school choirs work on. They usually pick 3-4 songs per concert. Mrs. Sperstad has been teaching here at Augusta School District for ten years and has been in the middle school for three years. "I love teaching here in Augusta! It's been exciting to see all the changes that have taken place since I've arrived. It's been particularly rewarding to hear their voices mature and develop." When she was in school herself, her teacher's piano lessons are what inspired her to become a teacher. "I always thought teachers were special people in my life and so, with my interest in music and my high regard for teachers, I decided to combine the two and become a music teacher," she explained. The choirs have all improved a lot this year and are on their way to an excellent ending.

Mrs. Sperstad nicely presents her middle school choir in the picture above.

AUGUSTA

2006

The Augusta Annual Staff expresses their extreme gratitude to all businesses and organizations who supported the yearbook by purchasing an ad. Their support is not only appreciated by the annual staff but by those students who purchased a yearbook made more affordable by their generosity.

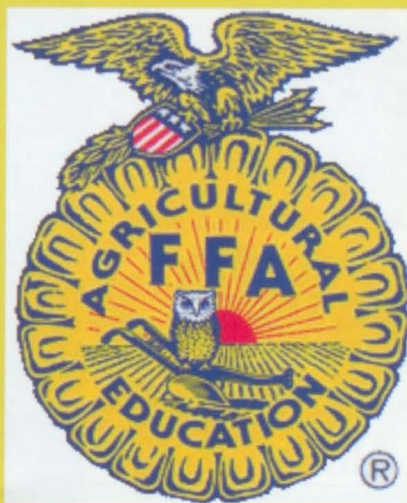

Way to go class of 2006!

Hurricanes ravage the Gulf Coast region in the fall of 2005, posing an unprecedented test of the United States federal emergency response efforts. Hundreds of lives are lost and thousands are left homeless in the wake of Category 4 Hurricane Katrina, followed by Rita and Wilma. The tragedy spurs contributions of money, talents, homes, food and more in an attempt to raise spirits and rebuild the area.

RISING FROM THE STORMS

August

- 25 Hurricane Katrina strikes Florida.
- 28 Mandatory evacuation of both New Orleans and Mississippi is ordered as Katrina becomes a Category 5 storm in the Gulf of Mexico.
- 29 Downgraded to a Category 4 storm, Katrina hits land. 1.3 million homes and businesses lose electricity in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. 30 levees are breached, flooding New Orleans and leaving 100,000 people stranded. After slow government response, civil unrest and looting begins.
- 31 President Bush surveys the damage.

September

- 1 30,000 National Guard troops are deployed. Gas prices spike to as high as $5 per gallon.
- 2 President Bush visits Louisiana and signs a $10.5 billion relief bill. Nearly 154,000 evacuees arrive in Texas.
- 4 The New Orleans Superdome is evacuated.
- 6 President Bush and Congress pledge to investigate the flawed disaster response.
- 9 Government-issued debit cards are distributed to evacuees. The program fails and is ended days later.
- 12 Michael Brown, head of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, resigns. Flooding is down to 50 percent in New Orleans.
- 14 New Orleans Mayor Ray Nagin announces a phased repopulation plan.
- 15 New Orleans begins to reopen. Katrina is named the most destructive hurricane in U.S. history.
- 20 Louisiana Governor Kathleen Blanco declares a state of emergency as Hurricane Rita strengthens off the coast.
- 22 Rita hits the Louisiana coast and heads for Texas.
- 23 Thousands evacuate eastern Texas and the 9th Ward of New Orleans floods once again after levees are overrun.

October

- 24 Hurricane Wilma hits southwest Florida.
