"Advance to Go, Collect 2007" is an especially unique yearbook because it represents the 100th volume of yearbooks at Augusta High School.

Countless hours of uploading pictures, interviewing advisors and coaches, and spending a great amount of time inside and outside of class working on pages. This was the life of 17 enthusiastic, hard-working, and passionate staff members, who were very eager to finish what you have just opened.

As Editor-In-Chief, it was my wish to create a yearbook that captured the highlights, and the lesser known events that may otherwise have gone unnoticed. It was my greatest hope to include everything in this yearbook, and to add some new elements that will become tradition. It was my privilege to help create this yearbook. I hope you enjoy looking and reading through it as much as I did creating it.

ADVANCE TO GO. COLLECT 2007

The dream begins with a teacher who believes in you, who tugs and pushes and leads you to the next plateau, sometimes poking you with a sharp stick called "truth."

choose. We are very proud of your accomplishments and will always be there for you.
Love, Mom and Dad

Mack,
We have enjoyed watching you grow into a handsome young man with a great personality and winning smile. You have so many talents and we are so proud of you! Set your goals high!
Congratulations and God bless you with a bright future and a great life!
Love Always, Mom and Dad

To Our Brother,
Remember all the good times we had, growing up,
playing ball, spending time at our hunting shack, and just being together as brothers. Remember, there is a whole new world out there for you to explore. Keep working hard and hopefully we'll be watching you play ball in college.

you set your mind to...I've seen it. You will always be my baby girl with a big heart and smile. Follow your dreams and listen to your heart. I'll always be here for you.
I love you, Mom

Congrats Stace!
You finally made it and are headed off to college life. And I guess I would be lying if I said I won't miss you.

LIFE BECOMES ALL THAT YOU STAY BIG, AND YOUR WORRIES

Courtney,

I knew you'd make it, unlike lunch. We have had so many great memories together, with a whole bunch more to come. You are the best sister and friend anyone could ask for. I love you and don't be afraid to call me in the summer time when you need someone to make you lunch.

Good Luck!!

Love Lindsey

Samantha,

Go spread your wings. Live your life so when you go to bed at night you have no regrets and can be proud of what you did that day. Don't let life overwhelm you, take it in stride-you'll succeed in whatever you decide to do. Remember your family is always here for back up. We are very PROUD of you!

Mom and Dad

Josh,

We are very proud of you. With your character, sense of humor and determination, you will achieve all your goals and dreams.

Love you, Mom and Dad

Emiliano,

God blessed me richly when he gave you to me. The years have gone by so quickly and I can't slow them down. It's your turn to fly! You'll live in my heart forever. Love, Mom Congrats Chris as you move ahead in life. We are very proud of you. Remember, no matter how big you grow you will always be our little Kissefur.

Love Mom & Dad

Kara,

You will always be our "rae" of sunshine. We are so proud of you, Rae!

Just reach for the stars. You'll succeed at everything you do. We know you will. Congratulations for getting though your last year of school!

Love,
Mom and Dad

Kimberly Lynn,
I'm sitting here this morning with a loss on words; my youngest is graduating. I'm so very proud of you. You've accomplished so much in such a short time. With college years fast approaching I wish the very best for you and to you. I know you'll succeed at whatever you do.

Have fun and remember that we're a phone call away.

Love always, Mom

Nathan,
We can't believe how the years have flown by. We all remember you as a small boy with strawberry blonde, curly hair and a great smile. Now you're an adult and you're ready to join the real world. Good luck in the future. And make your wildest dreams come true.

Love, Mom, Dad, and Brandi

Samanthy,
Make time in your day to watch me please!!!

CONGRATULATIONS

Love ya always,
Kevin

We are so proud of you, Sam. We are always here for you, just a phone call away.

Love, Erin and Ryan

Samantha, CONGRATULATIONS! You need to keep me informed of your schedule so I can call when I need help. Remember, I Love you lots, Maggie

YOU'RE GETTING TO, I HOPE YOU, AND WANTS THE SAME

Adam-

You are an amazing person and I am so blessed to have you! Words cannot express how much you mean to me and I thank God every day for bringing us together. You and I have become so close over these past few years and I pray that we will continue to grow closer! You are not only the love of my life; but also my best friend and will always be! Congratulations on closing this chapter of your life, I know you will go on to be a great success in all your future endeavors! You are a great person Adam! Thank you for all you have been to me! Remember to always keep God # 1!! Good Luck, I love you & God Bless,
Sephra

Ashley,

You have been my best friend since the seventh grade. I greatly appreciate everything that you have done for me. You have been there for me when I have needed you the most. I wish you the best of luck in life that lies ahead for you. I hope you keep in touch when we go off to college. I will keep you in my thoughts and prayers everyday. I love you like a sister and you will always be my best friend.
I wish you the best of luck.

Love Always,
Shawna

Shawna (Pee-Wee)

You did it! We are so very proud of you. Just remember baby, you can be and do anything you set your heart and mind to. You'll be a success no matter what you do in life. Enjoy it to the fullest.
We love you!
Mom and Dad

Kim,

We finally made it, I almost thought we never would! I couldn't have made it without you. You've been my best friend and were always there. THANK YOU! Good luck at Stout. I know you'll do well. You won't be too far away, so there's not going to be any excuse not to keep in touch!

Love Always,
Amanda

(Hello) & Tudo Bem (How's It Going?)

Every school year Augusta High School students get the chance to meet Foreign Exchange Students. These students come from every corner of the earth. It is always so much fun getting to know them.

This year we had two new students from Brazil, Andrea Guimaraes and Paola Barbosa. Andrea is 18, and has two brothers. Her favorite sports are soccer and volleyball. Paola is 16, and her favorite food is tacos, and in Brazil she likes to eat lasagna. There was also a Brazilian student who returned from the past year, Arthur Garbe. Arthur is 17 years old and likes Pizza Hut. His favorite food back home is Italian, and his favorite movie is Lord of the Rings.

We also had a student from South Korea. So-Yeon Yim is in the senior class. She's 17 years old and likes to play piano and take pictures. Her favorite movie is Lord of the Rings also.

It seemed that all Foreign Exchange Students really enjoyed the United States. Several people learned from them, as well as they learned from us. The Foreign Exchange Students had experiences to last them a lifetime.

After losing 4 out of 5 varsity golfers, the Beavers set out with one junior, a trio of sophomores, and a freshman for the 2006 golf season. Sophomore, Scott Martinson, the only full time returning varsity golfer, led the way scoring a team high 12 conference points and got MVP honors. Right behind him was Adam Sewell who by the end of the season used only his 7, 8, and 9 irons to give him 8 conference points. Willie Grams received the Most Improved award improving his average by 5 strokes. Trevor Evenson, and Brad Messerschmidt filled out the rest of the varsity team. Matt Trescher, Jordan Strasser, and Monty Taylor helped out all season on both the JV and Varsity teams. The Boys golf team scored 21 conference points through the season and the head coach Mr. Rod Anderson said that he expects good things for the 2007 season with the team returning each golfer.

The 2006 girls' golf season started out with a magnificently, after losing only two letter winners to graduation, the bar was set high for this season. Even though the team was relatively young, Mrs. Diehl was confident; the returning team members were Leah Grams, Erin Nelson, Alison Sell, and brought new golfers Kara Pieper and two freshmen Kristina Gerike and Marissa Yule. Leah Grams received the MVP award with an average of 57 strokes. Allison Sell was right behind with an average of 59 strokes. The team expects to sit higher in conference standings next year since they will return with all but one golfer. "We had lots of fun golfing this year especially on the van rides to and from the golf meets." Leah Grams

Sprinters, distance runners and field eventers all turned up on the first day of track practice. They knew that the season would take some work, they stuck with it and gave it their all. Looking at their records showed that we had some really resilient competitors. Emily Halvorson, Conrad Gabler and Bobby Stensen showed their dedication at sectionals. Placing fifth is Conrad Gabler, Bobby Stensen also placed fifth and Emily Halvorson placed sixth. The stellar coaches Will Jacobs and Jed Stutzman had a "great time working with and getting to know the team," and "The team always had light spirits that brightened up the practices," proclaimed Mr. Jacobs. "I had a great time in track and it was a wonderful high school experience." Stated Danielle Solie.

Eager to step up to the plate to begin the softball season with a clean slate, the Lady Beavs swung into the gym to perfect their game. With seven returning letter-winners from the previous year, the team had plenty of experience but also had many newcomers who were ready to kick it up and fight for any open positions. With two new assistant coaches, Peggy Lorenzen and Liz Holmes, the Lady Beavs had a lot to look forward to. Starting their season with a 12-1 win over the Indees was an enormous accomplishment. Surpassing their expectations, they continued the season with wins over Greenwood, Osseo-Fairchild, and Fall Creek. After playing Neillsville in Augusta's home tournament, the winning streak came to a close. The Lady Beavs next won their game in the regional playoffs against Granton. Unfortunately, the Beavers season came to an abrupt end after losing a regional playoff game against Eau Claire Immanuel. Throughout the season, the ladies improved, rejoiced in their wins, and came together as a team. Allison Sell and Leah Grams summed the season up best, "It was a challenging year and we had plenty of ups and downs, but next year can only get better."

It was that time again. Baseball time. The Beavers were ecstatic to start their season, The Seniors along with some of the underclassmen returning from last season had experience. And the Beavers showed their excitement at the start of the season. They lost their first three games, however, they were all by 2 runs or less. In their next game against Alma, they got their first win thanks to a two run home run off of the bat of Michael Stary to take the lead. But after the win, things started to go downhill. the more inexperienced players on the team were needed to step in and fill the roles of 5 of the starters that had to sit out because of poor grades. Losing the players was detrimental to the team, In all but two of the next 10 games, the Beavers lost their games by the 10 run rule. When the players that sat out returned, the team was ready for their playoff game facing the Melrose Mindoro Mustangs. During the game, the beavers showed their form from earlier in the season. They stayed with the Mustangs for the first four innings. When the Mustangs scored, the Beavers would answer back with a score of their own. However, the Beavers couldn't pull through because of a late collapse of the defense.

"Dedication is the key to success. It is fun to have success. Therefore, dedication is fun, so you should try having it. Having a fun season starts with working in the offseason.

Four returning letter winners, Bobby Stensen, Renae Zimmerman, Jessica Schroeder, and Alison Kaeding, stepped up and became leaders of the volleyball squad. With Head Coach Jean Radovich, and assistant coaches Chuck Forseth, Natalie Runice, and Kris Perkovich, coaches and players set high expectations for the varsity squad.

Even though the girls were short-handed with wins, they beat Gilman in a five-game thriller, and came close to Altoona and Regis. "Starting off the season with a conference win was an accomplishment. It was intense, and we looked forward to what the rest of the season would bring us," says Bobby Stensen and Jessica Schroeder of the Gilman match.

Coach Jean Radovich said, "I like practices better than games. I love working with the girls, being a mentor and I enjoy what they all bring to practice."

Many of the Lady Beavers had a smashing good time, from getting "jiggy" with it in the locker room, to comforting each other after a hard-fought loss. The energy went through the team like a lightning bolt from fast-action kills, the adrenaline from winning a game, and camaraderie with team mates.

The JV and C-teams were packed with enthusiastic girls looking to get some playing time. As Valarie Dehnke said, "It was an exciting year. I became a better player and had fun!"

Intensity and encouragement carried the ladies, coaches, and manager, Cassie Pettis, through the season as the 2006 volleyball season ended with a "slam"!

With a new coach, look, and chip on their shoulder the team set out to achieve victory in the 2006 season. The team opened up conference play with a drubbing of the Loyal Greyhounds. It was followed by two losses, an injury loaded match against Owen-Withee and an unfortunate home opener against Thorp. Hopes were brought back up again by a convincing defeat of McDonnell.

Homecoming was a great match-up against a team still trying to make the play-offs in the Gilman Pirates. You could feel the excitement in the air. "Da Beavs" scored first with a Jesse Herrick touchdown....but injuries and a returned kickoff changed the mood quickly. The Beavers stayed strong in the second half but it was too little too late the final score was 39-14.

Regis was the next road trip opponent at Carson Park. This game is always a good match-up. The Beavers statistically outgained the Ramblers but a long field for Augusta most of the game and Regis' downfield threats led to the outcome of 35-6.

Senior/Parent night was all about pride and the seniors' last home game. Greenwood was the final opponent as Augusta would not be going to playoffs this year. Four turnovers cut the Beavers short of scoring and gave the Indians many short fields. The final score was 35-7. It wasn't the lack of effort. Everything was left on the field.

A major accomplishment happened this year for a very talented running back named Jesse Herrick. He broke 1,000 yards rushing during the season.

The 2006-2007 high school flags team dedicated many hours with much determination to put on a wonderful performance during homecoming and parent's night for boy's basketball. Flags coach Mrs. Zastrow explains "it's a different type of sport where they can express themselves in. It takes a lot of drive and coordination to be apart of this sport, considering this is the only sport in our school that you have to try out for." The Flags team put on two major performances each year which are homecoming and parent's night for boy's basketball. This year for homecoming they preformed to "We Run This" by Missy Elliot. Then for Parent's night for boy's basketball they preformed to "First" by Lindsey Lohan.

Returning as the only wrestler from the Augusta part of the Osseo Fairchild/Altoona/Augusta Fighting Dragons Ben Mosley became one of only 4 upper classmen on the roster. The Fighting Dragons started out a little slower than expected due to a few injuries and wrestling against the returning conference champs. As for Ben he also started out on the opposite end of where he wanted to be losing consecutive matches to Cadott, and Neillsville. Then The OFAA team came away with wins over Whitehall and Stanley Boyd. Ben ended the regular season with 8 wins and 12 losses, a few losses came from him wrestling through tendonitis in his wrists. He also finished right in the middle of the pack at the Conference Meet. After the season Ben said he was a little disappointed in the record but his coach Jeff Larson says that "Ben's outlook for his senior year is looking much more promising."

The 2006-2007 Boys Basketball season began with high expectations. With an incredibly talented senior class coming back and a few outstanding juniors, the Augusta Boys Basketball team put together one of their most talented teams that the town had seen in a long time. The season, however, went in an unexpected direction. The first half of the season did not treat the Beavers too well. The teams overall record through the first 14 games was a heartbreaking 1-13. However, despite the dismal record the Beavers stuck together as a team. The following games proved to be what they had been wanting all season. With two impressive wins over Cadott and McDonnell the Beavers had the most confidence that they had had all season, and were in great anticipation to play the non-conference powerhouse that is Eleva-Strum. The Beavers started out looking like they were going to be obliterated by the Cardinals when they jumped out to a 9-0 lead. Then Brennan Dickinsen scored 7 straight points to put the Beavers back into the game.

From that point on the Beavers stuck with the Cardinals the entire game. With a minute and a half left the Beavers were down six when Chris Schmitt and Mackenzie Berry came down the floor nailing two straight three pointers to tie the game with thirty seconds left. Sadly, Eleva ended up winning the game, but this showed all of the teams in the area that the Beavers were no mediocre team. The next game against Regis wasn't a great game for the Beavs though, but it was for one of them. Mackenzie Berry hit six three pointers, which tied a school record, and scored a career high 26 points in the Beavers 41-70 loss. With playoffs in their eyes the boys had much preparation ahead of them, hoping for a good playoff run. It turned out that the Beavers had to play Eleva again in the first round of playoff. With playing such a great game against the Cardinals last game the Beavers were excited and ready to go. Sadly the boys lost to Eleva and the season tragically ended.

Up. Down. Up. Down. Those two words sum up the 06-07 Girls Basketball season. These girl definitely had the potential to do great things and sometimes games did not go their way. They proved to everyone what they could do with a big win in the conference opener over long time rival, Fall Creek. With sporadic wins throughout the year, the Lady Beavs had an average season. Finishing with an 8-11 record going into the conference playoffs the girls had some major set backs. After losing junior starters Renae Zimmerman and Bobby Stensen to torn ACL's and other players to illness, the varsity had to start relying on the junior varsity team to step it up a notch. The JV players were happy to fill in whenever they were needed to help out the team. Their first playoff game was against number four seeded, Elmwood, which ended up being a heartbreaker, and the end of the 2006-07 season. The team finished the season with an 8-13 record and a lot of new skills learned. All they can hope for next year is an injury free season and a whole, healthy team to return.

Yearbook: a book published annually by a group of students capturing the school year's events typically containing photographs of faculty and students. It may sound simple, but ask any of the 17 staff members, and they will all give you the same answer, "not at all!" All 17 members put in countless hours performing tasks that led to the creation of this book. These members were dedicated and very hard working. Advance to Go, Collect 2007 is a memorable yearbook, because it is our 100th volume. Every yearbook is unique and irreplaceable. As a yearbook organization, there are leadership positions that are elected every year. There are 2 Photo Editors, 3 Business Editors, and one main editor. The photo editors, Ashley Mork and Shawna Spencer, worked extremely hard to upload and capture photos to use in this annual. The business editors, Willie Grams, Jessica Schroeder, and Renae Zimmerman played a big role in making the yearbook affordable to others by selling ad space to local businesses. A big thanks to all the local businesses who helped out also.. The Editor-in-Chief, Chris Schmitt, helped the advisor, Mr. Catt, with important tasks including learning about a new publishing company. The yearbook staff has worked extremely hard and dedicated hours and hours into this book. Thanks to all the other school staff and students who helped to make our 100th volume, Advance to Go, Collect 2007, a great success.

BLUE JACKETS

The FFA participating in The Wisconsin Badger Football Game at the Badger Stadium on November 18, 2006

FFA is a great organization that has been alive for many years. The Augusta FFA chapter strives to attain leadership skills, learn teamwork, and teach people the great things about agriculture.

This year, FFA has been extremely busy, from taking trips all the way to Indianapolis to attend National Convention, to heading to Camp Randall to watch Bucky cheer on the Badgers to a big win.

Once again, State Convention in Madison was successful with seniors Samantha Pettis and Stacey Reetz, sophomore Emily Voorhies, Freshmen Alicia Goss, Kate Berlin, and Shelby Reetz, and Eighth grader David Zimmerman in attendance.

"We had a lot of fun. We were busy all day, attending conferences and listening to speakers that had a lot of things to say. I definitely will go again next year!" Freshman Alicia Goss says of attending State Convention.

Another fun activity that involves the whole town was the chance to host donkey basketball this year. Everyone had a laugh when junior Wyatt Biegel ripped his pants falling off of the "bucking" donkey! Throughout the year, all FFA members got the opportunity to participate in a wide variety of events and competitions. "This year's FFA members have been really positive and enthusiastic, and that is something I look forward to seeing again next year!" says Ms. Schlough of her great group of members.

FCCLA, what does it mean? Family, Community, Career, leaders of America. FCCLA is the only family based school organization in the country. It was started in 1945. The Augusta chapter advisor is Mrs. Burback.

This year the Augusta FCCLA had a State Officer : State Star Events coordinator: Adam Sewell. He had the opportunity to help run the Leadership Lab that all FCCLA members attend on October 18, 2006. Members walked out of that lab at UW Stout with confidence about FCCLA and more knowledge about the organization.

Before the homecoming football game the FCCLA members put on a chicken or fish fry at Teps drive in for the community to raise money for the chapter, for National Convention and for Star Events. For Halloween the members put on a fun and safety night for grades k-5. There was a great turn out, while the kids and members learned and had fun. FCCLA members also went to action city during Christmas break for something fun and to get know one another.

FCCLA is a great way to get involved with your community, and to learn about people in your town, and thorough out the surrounding areas. Wisconsin has around 115 chapters. FCCLA can open many doors so get in and get involved.

Getting a helping hand with anything you can for college is great, right? The National Honor Society hosted its scholarship work nights throughout the year to assist the seniors with their writing skills and refreshing their résumés. Those seniors who expected perfection for their scholarships got exactly that with the assistance of Mr. Catt. Along with scholarship work nights, the NHS also participated in the Polar Plunge to help benefit the Special Olympics. Although the water was extremely frigid it was worth the leap. Throughout the year they worked concessions to raise money for their organization and also hosted many fundraisers. These four students had other various activities during the school year and everything they did was for an amazing cause in some significant way. President, Brennan Dickinsen states that, "we do these things because we want to help our school."

This year's Student Council was filled with many intelligent, achieving individuals that wanted to make the 06-07 school year the highlight of their high school careers. Headed by President Adam Sewell and Vice President Brennan Dickinsen the student council began the year by scheduling the major events like Prom, Homecoming, and Winter Carnival. Throughout the year they also arranged for numerous guest speakers like Mike McGowan, who talked about respect and drugs in a school environment, to come in and discuss many topics and issues that one would experience during their high school careers. The student council also arranged some special events for the school and the community. Health Day was one of the events that were placed into the student councils lap for planning. The members of the student council, even though having many decisions to make throughout the year, stepped up took responsibility of the entire student body.

Bill Gates

Working on computers is a good experience.
Wyatt Biegel

Web Design is a class taught by Mr. Catt, to teach kids to be come better with the web. Web Design is a class that has to do with fixing the Augusta High school homepage and other pages and designing there own web page. One of the good things that happen for Web Design was the grant they got. With just having 8 kids in the class they still got lots of things done. Some of the programs they used to work on there pages were Microsoft Front Page and they used HTML. Outside of Mr. Catt's room, there is a suggestion list to write how they should in prove the Augusta home page. Some of the things were to improve the pictures. The web design class has worked hard to fix the page and get knew pictures. Everyone in Web Design puts lots of time and energy to make our schools web page better.

The real danger is not that computers will begin to think like men, but that men will begin to think like computers.

And Action! This year's One Act Play cast and crew toiled for endless hours before and after school in practices to get ready for the regional competition. Back from maternity leave, Mrs. Susan Maenner was at the helm casting and running the production of Competition Piece written by John Wells.

The staff and students would see the cast walking around the school muttering their lines and running mini rehearsals through their heads. On November 3 they went to sectionals and performed. On November 9 they performed again for the Middle and High School getting magnificent reviews from both the faculty and students. The play the performed was performed several years ago, and brought back to life with fresh talent. The unique part of this particular One Act Play was that it followed three different One Act Play teams preparing for the same play.

Cast members gave a great Christmas present to the student body and staff the day before Christmas break. From the Elves

"I have always had a great time in forensics and have met some of my best friends through participating in it" ~ Samantha Lewis

Forensics was a public speaking team whose members could compete in individual and team events including prose, poetry, and group interpretation. The advisors were Mrs. Kris Sell and Mrs. Marty Rugotzke. They dedicated their time to coach each member of the team and provide input on each student's piece to help them perfect their delivery. There were a total of twenty-five students who worked on perfecting their speaking skills throughout the competition season. The senior members said they gained the confidence of speaking in front of large groups, became more certain of themselves and had fun in the process. The junior members agreed that they wanted most of all to have fun. They also wanted to become good at speaking in front of groups, and possibly get to state competition. "Forensics was hard work and a lot of practice but in the end it will give you the satisfaction of a job well done." said Jessica Montonya.

NEW DISCOVERY FOR GREAT HEALTH

Augusta students unite health education. Teachers Mrs. Burback, and Ms. Dekan decided to start a high school activity called Health Day. A grant of $25,000 was written by Ms. Diehl, to promote health and wellness amongst the Augusta student body. Once a month, as our early release days came around, the student body participates in one of many healthful activities that make a difference in each of their lives. The activities consisted of everything from eating right and exercising, to drugs and drinking awareness, to cliques and gangs. Students are assigned to be supervised by one teacher for the half day of school during which time they are required to work on the project of their choosing. The student body can have a group of up to four people. Each group was allowed to choose how they wanted to present their project. Some of the projects consisted of either a brochure, board display, video, or speech. Students were required to complete their projects by March 15 at which time the projects will be displayed for the Augusta Community.

“Did you Mike proof the questions yet?” - Erin Nelson

Lawyers and witnesses alike worked their legal pads down to the last sheet preparing for this years Mock Trial competition at the Eau Claire County Courthouse on February 10th competing against four other schools. Both the defense and the plaintiff competed twice. In this years case there was a pedestrian-automobile accident. The young girl (the plaintiff) that was hit was 12 at the time and had both of her legs broken and a severe concussion. The defendant (the driver) was a single parent that at the time was working two jobs. The witnesses included the 60 year old bus driver, the 13 year old friend, the ex-wife of the driver, the best friend of the driver, the victims mentor, and the police officer that investigated the accident.

All of the witnesses had their flaws either that they didn't witness the accident or that they held a personal bias against or for the plaintiff. Both Mr. Stutzman and the attorney coach Mike O'Brien put in tons of time and energy to help this case become a success.

Both the lawyers on the plaintiff and defense worked hard to prepare for the competition. The plaintiff's lawyers included Matt Trescher, Katrina Cerrillo, Erin Nelson, and Tim Nelson. The defense lawyers included Adam Sewell, Tim Nelson, and Sarah Richardson. The lawyers had to prepare their direct questions for their appointed witnesses, the cross examination questions and the redirect.

The witnesses included Nicole Drowatsky, Adam Bergman, Kevin Kickbusch, Sawyer Stubbe, Kara Pieper, Sam Lewis and Matt Trescher. They worked overtime getting into character, and memorizing their affidavits for the firing squad that they had to face in cross examination.

Give your applause to the Augusta Senior High Choir. Under the direction of Ms. Sperstad they made their debut singing the National Anthem Friday night at the Homecoming game.

On October 30, 2006 the choir had their first concert. The audience tuned into the choir and after the concert was done they responded with great reviews. The songs they sang were With Liberty and Justice, Shut De Do, Soon and Very Soon, Hava Nashira, and Rhythm of Life.

The next event that they participated in was the High School Choral Festival, which was on October 31, 2006. With enthusiasm and joy they sang the three songs wonderfully. The songs were Soon and Very Soon, Shut De Do, and Rhythm of Life. The director from another school critiqued them and said they performed well. They were told they showed good energy and passion.

Then on December 18, 2006 the choir performed their Holiday Concert. Adam Sewell suited up as Santa Clause and handed out candy to the younger members of the audience.

On December 21, 2006 the choir went caroling at Unity Bank and on January 2, 2007 they caroled at the Nursing Home for the elderly.

January 20 rolled around and some selected choir members, Allyssa Johnson, Danielle Solie, Matthew Trescher, Adam Sewell, Laura King, and Lillie Simpson, were part of an All Conference Choir. This year they went to Eleva-Strum to sing with members of other choirs.

On March 5, 2007 the choir did some jazzy music for the Pops Concert. They were even able to get the audience to participate in some of the songs.

On March 31, 2007 the Senior High Choir had solo and ensemble at Eleva-Strum. Many members of the choir participated in this event. Participants in these events are able to win medals and partake in solo and ensemble at a state level.

On May 5, 2007 the choir had their spring concert. The choir's final performance was at the Senior's Baccalaureate ceremony and Graduation night.

"Music helps express what's really on the inside." This was the belief of the high school band Conductor Mrs. Kelli Zastrow, and that's exactly what she wanted to have brought out in band. Whether it was performing for the community at one of their many concerts, marching through the streets during parades, or pumping up the home crowd at sporting events, this band had astounding sound and plenty of emotion in their music. This proves that practice does make perfect. The band practiced day in and day out and even during other classes. The band overflowed with outstanding performers with eight members making the all-conference band and many others performin amazing solo ensembles. There were numerous experienced leaders on the band this year with eleven seniors showing the new coming freshman how to perform with class and quality.

Music isn't just learning notes and playing them, you learn notes to play to the music of your soul.

Future Business Leaders of America is a bit of a misleading statement. Joining FBLA could be for many reasons that aren't business related. For example, joining to spend time with friends, being a part of a group, or just to have fun, FBLA is a business oriented group that also has fun. FBLA members work hard to plan fun events, practice competitive events, and run meetings. They donate their lunch, break, after school, and weekend time to make FBLA a success. A lot of hard work needs reward with fun. Along with the Advisor, the officers, which meet once every week by themselves, work extremely hard, also. No matter what, FBLA is a win-win situation.

ACTIVITIES

A WALK DOWN

The night of April 29th, 2006, was one that lived up to all the glitz and glamour of Hollywood. The juniors made the transformation from ugly auxiliary gym to Hollywood hot spot.

When people arrived at the dance, they were ushered onto the red carpet where the bright lights from the D.J. and the lights surrounding the red carpet made it seem like everyone was taking their picture. With the dance floor dimly lit and the D.J.'s spotlights flashing he kept the night rolling with songs like "Ms. New Booty" and the "Electric Slide." The most important song of the night was "Making Memories of Us" by Keith Urban, which was Prom's theme song. As 10 o' clock slowly approached, the nominees for King, Queen, Prince and Princess, Adam Sewell, Brennan Dickinsen, Courtney Berg, and Sara Stary, started getting jitters.

The Grand March was about to begin and that meant the D.J. would announce the results of the 2006 Prom King and Queen race. In the end Courtney Berg and Brennan Dickinsen satisfyingly took the Prince and Princess crown which meant that Sara Stary and Adam Sewell were crowned 2006 Prom Queen and King.

The D.J. revealed that the last song was starting, the photographer was packing up his camera and everyone knew that the 2006 prom was coming to a close. Everyone found their dates and their jackets and as the started leaving "Hollywood" they realized that the night was already over.

“WALK THE PLANK”

“Aargh make em’ walk the plank maties.” We saw a great number of students showing school spirit. Sawyer Stubbe wearing Mickey gloves, a Santa hat, clown Shoes, and knee pads over his pants made him look even more crazy. Valarie Dehnke with her wooden clog shoes, her odd-looking green outfit and her Mexican hat. Cassie Glenz, with her makeup put on wildly. The outfits were stranger each and every day. Throughout Homecoming Week, there was a frantic scurry to finish decorating the hallways and the float, and to put the finishing touches on the skits, and to participate in lunch activities. The student body participated in numerous interesting games. Friday was a beautiful day to go outside for the parade. It was a crisp fall day; the breeze of excitement flowing through our ears. Everyone cheered and showed their enthusiasm and school spirits, as they marched down the road with their classes. When everyone arrived back to school, there was a pep assembly to help boost our school spirit for game against the Gilman Pirates. Augusta played a good game, but unfortunately lost 39-14. Saturday was the homecoming dance; The Homecoming King and Queen were Donovan Shilka and Courtney Berg. Everybody danced and had a great time; others had a really good time head banging, slow dancing, and being just down right crazy. The Augusta All-School Class Reunion Art and Talent Show was October 6th and 7th at the Main Street Gym. The dance was at 9-12:30 P.M. All graduates and spouse/partners/friends were invited. The Featured Artists were Pat Gabler, JoAnn Weiss, Judy Dekan, Sue Kensmoe, Barb Pritzl, Inez Pettis, Tim Herrick, and several more people. The evening Accompanists were Olivia Buvala on the violin, Ms Roberta Sperstad and Karley Travis on the piano.

ADVANCE TOKEN TO WINTER CARNIVAL

Winter Carnival was a fun filled dance for grades 9-12. The price to get in to the dance was four dollars for singles and seven dollars for couples. Ms. Schlough and Mr. Sigurdson were the chaperones of the dance. The theme of the dance was, well there wasn't really a theme, you just had to look decent, and most people wore really nice dresses. Winter Carnival was a time for friends to have fun and where kids go to hang out. The Winter Carnival dance was held on Saturday February 10th from 8pm to 12am, in the high school cafeteria. Some people say there were some freshman and some sophomores and some seniors, but most of the people said that they didn't see all that many people at the dance. They're were an abundance of songs that were played, along with all kinds of different music like rap, hip hop, and some country, some slow dances. The cha cha slide and the YMCA were two famous dances. Everyone that went to the dance said that they had lots of fun hanging out with friends and lots of fun watching Ms. Schlough and Mr. Sigurdson dance. Most kids just went to party, get away from home, and to hang out with their friends.

-Muhammad Ali, American Boxer

Have you ever had a brisk spring breeze blowing in your face as you ran the 200 for middle school track team? As spring rolled around, the Middle School track was getting ready to go out and start practice. As their coaches Arica Schlough and Jeff Hadorn, they always like to help each student in their event. The students said they enjoyed track, and tried to do their best at every event they competed in. Ms. Schlough said "I loved coaching the middle school track, and loved the enthusiasm and energy the students showed." "I enjoy coaching the middle school track very much, because it's an individual sport, the harder you work, the better you will be". Mr. Hadorn stated, "My favorite thing in track is probably watching the relay races, all the teamwork that is put into it."

The 8th graders spent months of preparation, to present Cinderella's Glass Slipper, under the direction of Susan Anderson. This play was a classic story of Cinderella with a slight twist. The audience was delighted by the comical flare of Cinderella's "ugly" step-sisters played by Sydney Anderson and Lindsey Berg. From Sydney's obnoxious laugh to Lindsey's ditzzy questions, this play was bound to entertain an audience of all ages. The glass slipper was extra shiny because every 8th grader had a part from building the sets to setting up the lights and sound. According to the actors, the most challenging parts of the play were projecting their voices and learning to cooperate with one another. Despite their challenges, "the class of 2010 put on an incredible performance", said Ms. Writz.

Get it! I got it! Two common phrases heard most often on the volleyball court. Middle School Volleyball consists of two teams made up from the 6th, 7th, and 8th grade. Coach Tauschek said “My team can make some improvements but I’ll take them just the way they are!” when she was asked if the team could improve on their skills. Coach Lorenzen said “My team can always make improvements to make a better team.” “The best plays/moments,” said Coach Tauschek “was every play was great.” The reason why that was the best is because they were all a team effort. Coach Lorenzen said “There are too many plays/games to choose from! They were all good.” Some of the members on the 8th grade team will move on to play on high school teams. Coach Tauschek and team finished the year with a record of 8-2 for season and 6-4 for tournament. Coach Lorenzen and her team finished with a record of 8-2 for season and 6-4 for tournament. Coach Tauschek thinks her team did stellar for the season. Coach Lorenzen thinks her team did well. With hard work and dedication they will make a good team. “If you always do what you’ve always done, you’ll always get what you’ve always gotten!” 6th and 7th grade team quote. “Keep up the will to win and not the will to lose!” 8th grade team quote.

Ready! Set! Hike! Football is one of the most popular sports in the fall of the year. Middle School Football consists of two teams made up from the 6th, 7th, and 8th grade. This year the Middle School football team is doing their best to play as one team. There are some things that they can improve on, but can't we all? When asked if the teams could improve on their skills, Coach Hadorn said, "Always room for improvement," and Coach Sigurdson said, "Anyone can improve no matter what level." Some of the members on the 8th grade team will move on to play on high school teams. Coach Hadorn and Coach Sigurdson think the teams did well and never gave up. "The teams always gave a 100%" said Coach Hadorn. One of the best plays Coach Sigurdson liked was the one Weston Huth did in the game against Elva-Strum. Weston made 200+ yardage game that day. The reason why that game was the best is because people were blocking and Weston was carrying people on his back. Coach Hadorn, Coach Sigurdson and team finished the year with a record of 0-5 for 8th grade and 2-3 for 6th and 7th grade. With hard work and dedication they will make a good team.

-Bill Taylor

As the basketball season rolled around, the middle school girls were very anxious to get started playing. While the season passed the girls said they began to work much better as compared to the previous years, and having lots of fun even if they were on the losing end of the stick. Their coach Ms. Jensen felt, "They are extremely hard workers, and I am very excited to see what else they can accomplish for the rest of the year." As memories flowed back to Ms. Jensen, she would have to say that her favorite memory so far this year would have to be when 1st year player Jacquelyn Gibson scored her first 2 points of ever playing basketball against Fall Creek. The 8th grade girls especially had fun when they played against Cadott; the game was up and down with many lead changes, with the girls losing a hard fought battle by one point. "At the beginning of the season, we struggled to play like a team, but as the year went on we began to play like an actual team." -The 8th Grade Girls Basketball Team. First year coach Ms. Jensen had lost of fun coaching the middle school girls and hopes she can continue coaching.

Dribble, dribble, pass, SHOT! From the stands the fans cheer for the middle school boy's basketball team, as they put forth their best effort. With longtime Middle School Coach Mr. Hadorn returning for another season of Middle School Boys Basketball along with Mr. Petznick and his basketball expertise the Beavers Middle School Boys Basketball Team started out another season with high expectations. According to Coach Hadorn both boys teams had an excellent season, even though their wins and losses may not show it they really came a long way through out the season. The 8th graders will be moving their way up to high School Basketball next year and they seem to have their skills ready to play; while the 7th grade team gets another year to ready their basketball talents.

Middle School Choir was filled with enthusiasm and fun. The students worked hard to perfect every song, and really enjoyed performing at concerts. Mrs. Sperstad, the Choir teacher, expressed that she really enjoyed teaching middle school choir, because of the students and how much they learned and grew into good singers.

The students put time in inside and outside of class to not only perfect their songs, but also become better singers. The Middle School Choir students had a great amount of effort and enthusiasm which allowed them to succeed as a group this year. Mrs. Sperstad expects these same qualities from other Choir groups as well.

"Ah- ha!" This was a phrase Mrs. Zastrow liked to hear often. She looked forward to students being excited to come to class and ready to learn.

Mrs. Zastrow said, "I believe participating in band makes the students well-rounded individuals, and having different experiences in life helps them grow."

This year's middle school band was very well behaved and docile, a fact that didn't go unnoticed by Mrs. Zastrow. They developed their teamwork, discipline, diligence, and sensitivity to music while participating in class.

The goals for middle school band were work together, perform well together, and have fun while learning! There's a bright future for this young, talented group!

Could you stand in front of a crowd and supply them with information or make them laugh? This is the question the Middle School Forensics team is trying to answer for themselves. Their advisers were Mrs. Skoyen and Mrs. Lippert and they said, "We had a great group of kids and we enjoyed working with them. They work hard on their pieces that they are going to use in their competitions/meets." Mrs. Lippert says Forensics is a great way to improve speaking skills like volume, rate, expression and eye contact. Forensics is way to improve social abilities by doing categories like Readers Theater, four minute speech, news reporting, prose and poetry. Team members can work in groups or work individually on pieces for their meets against other schools. Some of the schools they have competed against are Fall Creek, Level I at EC South MS, EC North Star, and Level II EC at Delong MS. Kristyn Reid did Reader's Theater and Four Minute Speech and she said, "I really enjoy Forensics but, I dislike the judges because they can be harsh." Kaitlyn Geiger did four minute speech and she says "forensics is very fun and helps with my speaking abilities and getting in front of people." The team quote is "Speak now or for ever hold your peace," said by unknown.

ORDER ON THE BOARD

Student Council please come to order! The middle school student council does a wide variety of things. They plan activities for the middle schoolers to enjoy throughout the school year to get out of the routine of the long school year. These students plan anything that they believe would raise the interest of students in school, such as planning school dances or going on field trips to places such as Beaver Creek Reserve and Bruce Mound. These are incentives to encourage the kids to get good grades so they can go to these fun events. The great thing about the middle school student council, or any other student council, is that the students get to voice their opinion of anything going on in school, other than homework of course. With the help of Council Advisor Ms. Dekan, these bright, young minds are becoming the leaders of tomorrow.

Wildlands Science Research School offers students a different way to learn with a knowledgeable and enthusiastic staff. It uses science units and science projects as the tool to achieve requirements made by the district and the state. Integrated into science are subjects such as math, reading, English, history, social studies and physical education. The different subject areas are needed to solve real life problems and questions. Many times problems are solved in team or group settings. Often the natural world is the focus for projects and units. Using the natural world as a basis means that you must have a desire to be outdoors. To stress this point, the middle schoolers have come up with a motto that is "You will dry off!" Getting to a remote study is not a problem as the school is outfitted with mountain bikes, canoes, kayaks, GPS units and camping gear for all students. Besides outdoor equipment, the newest technological equipment is also available to students which would even make a small college jealous. They recently received a $19,000 grant from EdVisions sponsored by the Bill and Linda Gates Foundation for innovative schools that collaborate together on projects. Critically evaluating the program is an ongoing process to improve the program and to meet the needs of students so the staff is making improvements to the program. Because Wildlands would like to improve their program, they will be adding 9th and 10th grade for next year; however, the total enrollment will not increase.
